Christmas In Westlake

HOME DECORATION WINNERS NAMED

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Fitzsimons, of 91 Lake Forest Drive, had a fine idea for a kingsized Yule Greetings to their fellow Westlake residents. It paid off in a big way—to the tune of $100, the first prize in the First Annual Christmas Home Decoration Contest conducted by the Westlake Improvement Association.

Using familiar ingredients — their own house, representations of their three children, life-sized choir boy figures, long fresh green garlands, and lots of colorful lights —the Fitzsimons family transformed their home into a huge Christmas card, much to the delight of their neighbors and the many visitors who have come to the Westlake Tract to see the celebrated Yule decorations.

Judges Pleased

Most particularly, the gaily-decorated home was seen and enjoyed by the three contest judges: Police Chief, William Sunderland, James E. Kennedy, Fire Chief, and Mrs. Helen Cheatham of the Jefferson Elementary School Board.

As a result, there now reposes in the brightly-lighted big front window of the Fitzsimons home two more colorful items: a large "permanent trophy" cup which will grace the various winning homes for many years to come, and a slightly smaller one which is expected to grace the Fitzsimons home for keeps. There also now reposes in the Fitzsimons' family coffers one shiny new check for $100 bearing the signature of Henry Doelger, builder of the Westlake Tract.

Second Prize

The second prize award of $75.00 —and an extremely close second it was, too, according to the judges — went to Mr. and Mrs. Hartley R. Appleton, whose home, at 1 El Portal, was "wrapped" in huge silver ribbons, while an authentic scale model of Saint Nick's North Pole toy factory extended along one side of the property.

Equally ingenious, and crowding the others closely, was the beautifully-decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Keneth D. Cummer, at 85 Cliffside Drive, which was given the third award of $50.00 for an effective replica of a cathedral organ loft, with a gallery of red-robed boy choristers.

340 To Be Called

County Draft Now Takes 21-Year-Olds

Daly City men 21 years of age will be drafted in January for the first time since World War II, the San Mateo County selective service board announced this week.

Some 340 county men will be called up for physicals next month. Induction quotas for January and February are approximately 100 men each month.

The north county board (which includes Daly City) will send 100 men for physicals January 25 and 73 men January 27.

The majority of these will be from the 21-year-old pool as most recent calls have exhausted the lists of 22-year-olds.

NICKELS, PLEASE

Parking Meters Go Into Operation

Coming in with the new year, parking meters go into effect here Tuesday, January 2.

Another new innovation will be parallel parking. All diagonal parking on Mission, San Jose and Markets streets will be illegal after January 2.

Those who fail to observe these two new regulations will find themselves paying traffic tickets.

However, unless you are feeling philanthropic, there is no need to drop a coin in the parking meters until after Tuesday.

Some 400 meters have been installed and the city promises it will benefit not only the city budget, but also shoppers who in the past have sought desperately to find a place to park.

D.C. Red Cross Plans Readied

DALY CITY JOINS IN MUTUAL DEFENSE SET-UP

City Ties In With County-State To Aid In Civilian Defense

Linking with the state and San Mateo county, Daly City is now a part of an over all master set up of civilian defense.

At their regular meeting Monday evening city councilmen approved signing a mutual civil defense aid agreement with the state and the communities of the state. Also approved was an agreement tying in Daly City with the newly organized joint county-city defense planning board.

State Terms

Under the state agreement, any city hit by an air raid or any other disaster may call on other communities throughout the area for help of both equipment and personnel. This will prevent any further tragedies as witnessed last month when a man died in a tree because a Burlingame fire engine couldn't be released for his rescue.

The new pact release any city, who lends equipment, from liability for that apparatus while it is in use by the borrower.

As for the county organization, this is a group of San Mateo county cities linked together to set up a complete program of civilian defense from auxiliary police and fire protection to public education on defense.

Mayor Heads

Mayor Paul Green has been appointed chairman of the county steering committee for civilian defense, and is in better position to represent Daly City on the joint city-county council. Green was named to represent the city at all meetings of the council, with A. J. Gaggero and Jim Kennedy named as alternates.

Other business before the council Monday night included:

1. Approving a supplemental agreement with the state by which Daly City will pay $27,669 of the $70,841 for traffic signals and channelization on Mission and Hillside boulevard and Mission and Market. The agreement has been sent to the state, and is expected that bids on the work will be called within the next 60 days.

Salary Set

2. The new Fire Chief (Elmer Kennedy) will be paid a salary of $400 a month beginning January 1. Also, the council approved the giving of civil service tests, open to the public, sometime in January or February for new firemen to serve with the regular department.

3. Notice was given the Parodi family to tear down a garage at 7009 Mission street. They agreed to this, but asked the city to investigate the safety of the Auto

NEED VOLUNTEERS TO ASSIST IN 1951 RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Enlisting recruits for the coming Red Cross funds drive in Daly City, American Red Cross workers will meet at City Hall January 9 at 8 p.m.

All women who wish to take part in making this year's drive a success are asked to attend this meeting. There will be a position for them on the Red Cross rolls.

Mrs. Barney Bristow, county chairman of the 1951 campaign, will preside at the indoctrination of workers.

Many Help

Many of the finest women in the city will display their customary willingness to serve the community. In addition, many women who are comparative newcomers to the city, but have joined the list of volunteers, will join in the drive.

The new organization will be shaped along the following lines:

Majors will direct the various districts; Captains will head the precincts; Block Chairman will be in charge of the various blocks.

This arrangement will allow women who have only a few minutes of time to spare an opportunity to serve on the Red Cross committee.

Volunteers may sign up the night of the meeting.

What Better Gift?

Wounded Marine To Recover Health

The best Christmas present in the world came to Mrs. Fred Bricker, 313 Peoria, last week in the form of a letter.

It was from a Navy Chaplain who informed her that her son, Pvt. James R. Bricker, will recover from wounds he suffered while fighting with the Marines in Korea.

The letter reads in part:

"James received gunshot wounds in both legs. After receiving the first wound he was waiting on a stretcher in the first aid tent to be evacuated from the battle area (Changin reservoir) when a shot fired by the enemy into the tent hit his other leg.

"James was admitted to this hospital (in Japan) on December 6. The doctor on his ward just told me that he was making a wonderful recovery His condition has not been serious at any time.

"I visited him a few moments ago, and found him in good spirits and doing fine. The time of his release from the hospital has not yet been determined."

The letter was signed: C. H. Shackelford, Chaplain, USNR.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Bricker, who suffered a stroke shortly after hearing of her son's wounds, is reported to be recovering.

HOME ON LEAVE this week is Marine Pfc Charles W. Cumiskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Cumiskey of 728 Thornhill Drive, Colma. Charles recently completed his recruit training. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in October.

Daly City Accidents Few

Christmas Drivers Display Caution

While California recorded a heavy traffic Christmas, Daly City escaped any fatalities or serious accidents, Police Chief W. W. Sunderland said today.

"There were no more accidents over the three day holiday than at any other time of the year," Chief Sunderland reported.

Three Suffer Minor Injuries

However, three persons did suffer minor injuries in the two most serious accidents reported.

Richard Brown, 8, and his mother, Mrs. Jessie Brown, of 652 Bellevue avenue, were treated at Junipero Serra hospital at 6 p.m. Christmas for cuts and abrasions they suffered in a collision at Templeton and Brunswick.

Arthur L. Brown, 42, driver of the car in which the two injured persons were riding, was coming west on Templeton and Arthur L. Flores, 28, north on Brunswick. The two cars met at the intersection.

Police report both machines will need extensive repairs.

Only Other Accident

The only other accident of any importance was at the intersection of Junipero Serra and Highway No. 1 Christmas Eve. Orvis King, 36, of San Francisco was driving north on Junipero Serra when he collided with a car driven by Mrs. Gertrude J. Rathbone, 64, of Burlingame. Mrs. Rathbone suffered minor chin cuts.

Burglar Gets $67 From Barbecue Cafe

Employing a pass key, a thief entered the back door of the Fat Boy Barbeque on Christmas evening and made off with $67.80 in cash.

Evidently knowing what he was about, the burglar made directly for the kitchen where he removed a cigar box from under the stove. In the box was the money.

Cecil Slayle, manager, reported the theft early Tuesday morning.

AIR RAID ALERT TO SOUND FRIDAY

Sirens To Blow At 11 A. M. In First Practice War Tests

Daly City's first practice "alert" will be sounded Friday at 11 a.m. A similar signal will go off in San Francisco.

The signal, a "red alert," the warning of imminent attack by enemy bombers, will consist of three series of 10 short blasts. Sirens and whistles on city hall, the water station on Citrus, in Colma and in Westlake will be used.

The "all clear," meaning that danger has passed, will be sounded at 11:15 a.m. It will be one long blast.

Similar tests will be sounded each Friday in the future.

Schools Re-Open Next Wednesday

Daly City schools will open for the New Year Wednesday, January 3.

When the school doors swing open next Wednesday they will spell the end of two weeks vacation for close to 4,000 local children.

The Wednesday return date holds true for all Daly City elementary schools, Jefferson High school, and Our Lady of Perpetual Help school.

THREE RESIDENTS GIVE BLOOD TO FIGHTERS

Doing their part to help the fighting men in Korea, one Daly City woman and two Colma residents this week donated blood to the San Mateo County Blood Bank.

It was the first donation for all three. Mrs. H. S. Garrison of Daly City and Barbara Sambson and Richard Sambson of Colma each gave a pint of blood.

"Do your part today, give a pint to save a life," a spokesman for the blood bank said.

USING KNIVES, PIPES, PRISONERS OVERPOWER GUARD TO MAKE ESCAPE OVER 10 FT. JAIL WALL

Back in the pokey today is a 19-year-old Daly City youth who is convinced that jail, or at least the Redwood City lockup can't hold him.

He is Robert Miller who along with four other prisoners overpowered a guard at knife point Tuesday night and made his escape. Miller and two of his companions were recaptured an hour later. The other escapees were captured Wednesday night.

It is the same Miller, convicted here on a burglary charge two months, who walked out of the Redwood City jail two weeks, and was subsequently captured by Daly City police as he hid behind a bathtub in a local home.

For A Ride

After his recapture Tuesday Miller ironically noted that he and his two friends had made the break. The two men who were not captured until 24 hours later, had gone along with Miller "just for the ride."

The three prisoners who were recaptured immediately under an old bridge not a mile from the jail include Miller, David Patton, 21, of San Francisco, and Daniel R. Heaney, 23, of South San Francisco.

The two other men, R. C. McWhorter, 31, of San Mateo, and Paul Campbell, 26, of Tampico, Illinois, were seized Wednesday night in a vacant house not more than six blocks from the jail.

Ruse Works

The five, all of whom are in jail on felony charges, made good their escape by a ruse. Heaney, complaining of an infected and swollen wrist, called for Al Ludwig, night jailer.

The jailer stepped inside the cell block, and a second later he was rushed by four other prisoners. As Ludwig went down, Miller jumped on his back.

Knife User

"Miller held a knife to my throat and threatened to cut me to pieces if I didn't 'relax,' the jailer said.

Ludwig narrowly escaped serious injury when one of the prisoners offered to hit him over the head with a jail shower handle. The other four vetoed this move and threw the jailer into a cell.

Grabbing his keys they made their way out of the cell block, over a roof of a low shed, and vaulted a 10 foot wall.

By the time Ludgwig was able to get to his feet and grab a gun Miller and his four companions has disappeared.

Map Helpful

Using a map of San Mateo county, the Daly City youth and his two companions headed for Bayshore Highway. An hour later they were spotted hiding under an old slough bridge about a mile from the jail. Two shots were fired and the men gave up.

This was a more dramatic escape for Miller. Two weeks ago he walked out of the jail with a laundryman and hitchhiked a ride to Daly City.

Local police, certain he would come back to his home town, went to the home of a relative. They found Miller hiding in a bathroom occupied by a woman who tried to keep police out by shouting that she was taking a bath.

Miller's escape, and the escape of the four other men, probably will open a grand jury investigation of jail conditions. The jail, which has been overcrowded for years, has been under heavy criticism lately.

Sloppy Shooter Fires Bullet Into Local Home

Another "sloppy shooter" made a target of a Daly City home this week.

Mrs. Romazzano, 287 Niantic, reports that while she was in her home Tuesday evening someone fired at her home. The bullet, evidently from a .22 caliber rifle, entered the south side of the house, went through the wall and came out in the living room.

UP - UP - UP THEY GO!

Daly City Food Prices Jump 1 To 10%

Food prices have jumped from 1 to 10 per cent in Daly City stores, as well as throughout the whole Bay Area, during the past month, a government report read today.

Sharp increases in such items as eggs, coffee, spices, soap powder, shortening, margarine, vegetable oils, canned fruits, meats and other stables have been felt here

However, don't put the blame on your local grocer.

Hard To Comply

Several grocers interviewed this week note that hard as they try to comply with the President's voluntary price control they can't keep up with wholesale prices.

"We've been absorbing wholesale price increases since the Korean war broke out," one merchant said "Ive gone about as far as I can go without boosting the price of goods in the store."

Wholesalers admit a rise in the price of goods. However, they too, blame others. They point out that the boosts are necessary to absorb the increased costs of basic ingredients and labor.

No End

No one seemed certain this week where the price spiral would end. In fact, the situation is so desperate that one grocer admitted:

"I'd really welcome price controls. The way things are going now my customers think I'm gouging them to the extent of the extra cents added to the price of products."

All those interviewed were certain that it would be a long time before costs would drop to the pre-Korean war level.

SANTA CLAUS visited here, or at least members and friends of the PTA's of the Jefferson school district made this room possible. These are but a few of the many items collected by the joint effort of the PTAs to be given out to needy families on Christmas.

House Burglar Makes $300 Haul

With an eye to the value of home appliances, an unidentified burglar entered an open window of a Daly City home last Friday afternoon and made off with $300 in household goods.

Clifford Rice, 109 Parkview, told officers that the thief had made the haul sometime between 1 and 4 p.m. Entrance was made through a window leading off a tunnel entrance.

When Rice returned that afternoon he found among other things missing a $60 vacuum cleaner, a $45 watch, a $23 toaster and almost a score of similar items.

Police surmise that the burglar must have driven up to the house and loaded his car with the loot during the daylight hours.

Abbott Street Women Hold Meet

Discussing plans for a gala New Year's Eve party, members of the Abbott Street Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Ann MacHealy, 173 Abbott, last Wednesday night.

The women, who have yet to name their organization, gather every two weeks to discuss matters of interest to them and their neighbors. Meetings are held in various homes on Abbott street.

Those who attended last Wednesday's meeting include Mesdames: Mildred Radzikowski, who assisted Mrs. MacHealy; Wilma Van Aken, Lorraine Bovero, Sally Cambridge, Pat Urbanus, Ann Ornellas, Doris Olmanson, Lillian Caine and Geraldine Vickers.

Two County Cities Are Among Top In Nation's Growth

A federal census report this week shows that San Mateo and Redwood City are among the 17 25,000-plus population cities in the United States which more than doubled from 1940-50.

The population of San Mateo jumped from 19,403 in 1940 to 41,536 in 1950 . . . a gain of 114 per cent. Redwood City population rose 103 per cent from 12,453 in 1940 to 25,342 in 1950.

One-third of the 17 top cities are in California. Richmond was the leader with a gain of 319 per cent from 23,642 10 years ago to 99,218 today.

Dowd, 146 Wilshire Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Mertens, 62 Hillsdale Avenue.

Prizes were personally delivered to the winning contestants by Harry Bosbery, Secretary-Treasurer of the Westlake Improvement Association, sponsors of the contest.

Prizes were donated by Henry Doelger, tract builder. In addition, gifts of shrubs to the first three prize winners, and merchandise orders to the others, were presented by Walter Prehn of the Floral Arts Nursery, on Junipero Serra and Alemany Boulevards.

Letter to the Editor

Mayor Requests Help With Traffic Problems

To: Holders of Business Licenses in the City of Daly City.

As you know, the City will soon initiate a Parking Meter program on certain of the more congested streets of Daly City, particularly those in or near commercial zones. It is hoped that the program can be effected soon after the New Year.

Also, early in 1951, new and modern traffic signals will be installed on Mission Street, both at the Hillcrest Drive-San Jose Avenue intersection area and the Market Street-San Pedro Road intersection area. At the same time, it is necessary that diagonal parking be eliminated throughout the city.

We realize that these projects may not work out 100 per cent effective at first, we are prepared to make adjustments where they may prove necessary after a reasonable trial period. The entire traffic and parking plan is the result of comprehensive surveys by competent engineers, and is designed to aid both the public and merchants by making more and better facilities available.

May we ask your cooperation by giving the new arrangements a chance to work. After being observed in operation for 45 or 60 days, the new parking setup will have demonstrated its advantages to everyone concerned and, where it may be necessary to make adjustments in individual cases, you may be assured that your City Council will take corrective action.

Thanks for your cooperation! Meanwhile, best wishes for a very prosperous New Year.

Sincerely,

PAUL GREEN
Mayor.

WOMEN BRING SCORE OF FAMILIES CHRISTMAS CHEER

As part of the total Christmas effort made by the various PTA units of the Jefferson School District, Mrs. Hugh Falconer, President of the James L. Snell PTA, newest in the District, pronounced a success the drive for toys, canned goods, clothing and funds for the needy families of the area of the School District.

From the first day of the drive, a teriffic display of interest was very much in evidence, this interest being shown by the workers who first solicited the goods, those who temporarily stored the goods until they could be taken to the warehouse, those who washed and mended the clothing and toys, right on to the last stage—packing the goods in shopping bags.

Once again the people of the area showed their good fellowship by means of their more than generous donations of the toys their children no longer used, canned goods, and clothing.

To the workers—the collectors, the sorters, menders — all the countless workers who gave so freely of their time and effort, the Executive Committee of the James L. Snell PTA Unit wishes to express its gratitude—not only for the work and time, but for the wonderful spirit constantly evinced.

To those merchants who made the job a little easier — many thanks also.

This project is the first big one of a very young Unit—and, thanks to the unceasing labors of a small army of willing workers, it has been a smash success. So—on to greater successes, as members of the James L. Snell PTA Unit.

WOMEN'S CORNER

By BABS BALSER

Because of the present unsettled world conditions American housewives are casting a rather apprehensive eye in the direction of the spice shelfs. For the second time in a dozen years women are finding that the spice market is in jeopardy. Once more a number of season producing countries are confronted with unstable world conditions.

Most spices are in short supply during a war. Trade routes are disrupted and plantation crops are destroyed. If there is any source of supply it is generally cut off by the shipping space needed for war materials.

Seasonings which find their way to American tables are imported from the East Indies, India, China, Africa, Madagascar, and the West Indies. The U. S. housewife needs only to pick up her paper to read of the present conditions in each of these countries and then learn of her chances at obtaining a spice supply.

There are some bright lights though. There is an extensive spice planting program going on in Middle America. Farms established during World War II to bolster cut seasoning supplies are now running to full capacity. Condiments grown on these farms are slowly replacing countries no longer able to fill orders. Black pepper still remains the biggest problem. Civil unrest in the East Indies has graphically cut down the supply.

New Year's Party

Legion Invites Public To Attend

All Daly City today was invited to see in the New Year at the American Legion Post No. 410 party Saturday evening, December 29, at the Legion Hall, 474 San Diego.

Although one day ahead of time, the party is to be of such size and spirits that it will take two days to recover, Pete Bordson said today.

The celebration gets underway at 7 p.m. with a potluck dinner. This will be followed by dancing and a general good time.

Those who wish are asked to wear costumes. Prizes are to be given for the best costumes of the evening.

Kenneth Sandrick and his accordian will be the backbone of the evening's musical program.

1696 School Still Stands

"The Voorlezer's House" in Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., is the oldest known elementary school building in the United States. It was erected before 1696.

"Voorlezer" was the title given by the early Reformed Dutch congregation to a church employee, whose main duties were to ring the bell, lead the singing, keep records, and admonish noisy church members. In the dominie's absence, he read church services.

The voorlezer conducted a school, teaching reading, writing, arithmetic and religious studies. In most settlements like the one on Staten Island, he also served as court clerk, court messenger and public scrivener. In this last capacity, one of his functions was to compose love letters for less fluent members of the community.

The Voorlezer's House is a two-story, frame, clapboard structure. The exterior is painted a deep red. Trim and window shutters are white.

The building rises two feet higher in the front than in the rear, giving the roof an unequal pitch. The original roof has been replaced with green asphalt shingles, the same kind of fire-resistant roof material used on most modern homes.

Foundation walls are of undressed fieldstone, with mud as mortar. Timbers of the building are of locally cut oak and whitewood. The white pine floor boards, varying in width from 14 to 16 inches, have been worn uneven by the more than two-and-a-half centuries of use.

Building Basement Floor

A 6- to 12-inch fill of coarse aggregate is necessary to make sure a concrete basement floor will be watertight, says American Builder magazine. The fill then should be covered with 15-pound asphalt-saturated felt, which is coated with hot asphalt. The reinforced concrete placed on top of this should be 4 inches thick. American Builder says a frequent practice is to insulate floors with a 4-inch-thick layer of concrete made with vermiculite, or other lightweight aggregate, placed under the top slab. This minimizes heat loss and condensation.

Fill must be thoroughly tamped.

Betty Ann MacHealy Observes Birthday

Having spent one year in this world, Bety Ann MacHealy of 173 Abbott street was feted at a birthday party Friday.

The party was given by her parents, and Betty gufgles that it was a great success. Present were all of Betty's friends, including the human and stuffed variety. The youngster received many nice gifts, all of which has given her courage to go on with the second year.

Q. Can linoleum be painted?

A—Yes. Any good grade of floor paint or floor enamel should be satisfactory. Two coats probably will be needed. Before painting, the linoleum must be cleaned thoroughly. Paint won't stick to grease or wax.

Q—Will painting damage wood veneer?

A—Not at all, but why paint it? Hardwood veneers are carefully cut to reveal all the natural beauty of the wood grain. A finish that will protect the wood without hiding the grain is usually considered best. Wood veneer can be finished with wax, stain and varnish, shellac, lacquer or any other standard wood finishing material.

Q—Porch floor boards sometimes are painted before they are put in place. Why?

A—If only the top is painted, moisture will enter the boards through the unpainted surfaces. Eventually some of this moisture will collect under the paint and cause it to blister. Painting all the surfaces, including the hidden ones, keeps moisture out, and the paint will last much longer.

Q—Will a chimney spark arrester eliminate the possibility of chimney fires?

A—No. Sparks come from many other sources, too. Sparks from other chimneys are still dangerous, and flaming sparks from outdoor fires of any kind can be carried hundreds of yards by the wind. A roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles is always an advisable safeguard.

Q. What causes stucco to crack?

A—There are three possibilities. Stucco might crack if the house settles. Improper mixing or application of the stucco could be another reason. A third cause is that the lath, or other base on which the stucco has been applied, has moved. Metal lath, instead of wood, should always be used in stucco work. If moisture penetrates to wood lath, it will expand.

Q—How can a paper lamp shade be cleaned?

A—Sponge the shade with skim milk. The milk won't penetrate the paper as much as water would.

SMJC Opens Winter Quarters January 2

The adult center at the San Mateo Junior College will open its winter quarters Tuesday evening, January 2. At that time a heavy program of courses and sections will be available to old and new students alike. Only the new students will need to register, the office announces.

Philip Morse, who has been assistant director of the adult center, is now acting as director in place of James Tormey, the newly elected county superintendent of schools.

The day college also resumes its work January 2. One of the first tasks facing the students (outside of classwork) will be the electing of new officers who will serve during the Spring term which opens in February.

Basketball is now the main sport at the college. The team won three straight tilts over other junior colleges and then lost a practice game to the University of California Blue. The jaysee squad is now set for the annual invitational tournament at Modesto jaysee.

The Peninsula UNESCO Forum will offer its first program Monday evening, January 8, and Community Hall will resume its Monday evening illustrated lectures a week later. The public is invited to all these Monday programs free of charge.

Shower Bath In Tub Costs Little More

Most home-owners now want overhead showers in their bathtubs, says American Builder magazine. The reason: "Water has to be piped to the tub anyway, so why not have a shower too?"

The publication explains that recent developments in shower equipment include "glass panels for tub enclosures, glass doors for cabinet showers, new types of shower heads, adjustable shower arms and new mixing valves for greater safety.

"One of the popular members of the shower family is the prefabricated metal shower cabinet. Cabinet showers are available in a variety of sizes.

"They are shipped knocked down for economy of transportation and ease of installation. They are leak-proof and durable. The latest types of receptors for shower cabinets are stain-proof and non-slip."

Square Tub Useful

American Builder says the design of modern bathtubs also reflects the constant striving of the plumbing fixture industry for good appearance, safety and high durability.

The square bathtub, with the oblong "tub" part set in diagonally, is mentioned as a particularly useful style for irregularly shaped bathrooms or rooms with limited floor space.

"Two integral corner seats and other features bring new convenience and comfort to this type of bathtub," American Builder says. "In addition, its structural advantages bring new freedom to the planning of bathrooms.

"It fits well into wall lengths too short for the average bath. In connecting baths, it saves valuable space between bedrooms. It leaves room for closets or storage without reducing bathroom floor space."

Extra Tiny Tub Produced

For exceptionally small homes where space is at an absolute minimum, there is a tub measuring 42 by 31 inches, the magazine adds. It has a built-in seat, a flat bottom and a "non-splash rim that also serves as a safety handhold." The tub is designed to be part of bathrooms as small as 5 feet, 8 inches by 6 feet, 8 inches.

Most new tubs have more flat surface space. A flat rim can be used as a shelf for toilet articles or as a seat. A flat bathtub bottom helps prevent slipping.

State Taxes May Go Up

LEGISLATURE FACED WITH DEMANDS ON BUDGET

California ranks well up among the states with the highest state-levied tax burdens—third highest among 20 selected states in per capita, and second only to New York in total dollar volume of taxes collected.

Furthermore, combined state and local tax collections place California second high among these states on a per capita basis, and fourth high on an income basis.

These and related factors were revealed today upon completion of a six-month study of California governmental revenue and expenditures compared with other states. The study was made by a special California State Chamber of Commerce committee on state and local finance. The nation's 18 most populous states, and the neighboring states of Oregon and Arizona were used for comparison.

Take Stock

"The 1951 session of the California Legislature will be faced with demands for heavy increases in our state budget," Max Eddy Utt, Los Angeles attorney, chairman of the State Chamber's special committee stated. "Therefore, we consider it timely for California to take stock of where it stands tax-wise, in comparison with other states.

"These comparisons do not evaluate the standard of government and services rendered in other states. Nevertheless, they help point to the impact of additional spending on California economy.

"It must be borne constantly in mind by the Legislature and others interested in California's future that our tax burden must never become so high that it puts California manufacturers and producers at a disadvantage in competition with manufacturers and producers of other states."

Spending High

For the last three years, California's annual spending has been around the billion dollar mark, with $978,172,00 appropriated for the current fiscal year—despite apropriations being sharply cut down from much larger demands, the State Chamber study points out.

"Even without any liberalization of present laws which authorize expenditures, costs of public education and welfare will mount substantially in the next fiscal year," the State Chamber report warns. "Before the Korean War, this increased cost could not have been made by the existing State General Fund tax structure. The greatest business activity in California's history is increasing the yields of major taxes—but only to the point of paying for increased expenditures.

New Prospects

"The 1951 Legislature will be confronted with proposals for new or further expansions in services and costs. These would require new taxes or increased taxes, if the 1951-51 State Budget is to be balanced.

"California state spending was $282,749,000 in 1939-40, and is $978,172,000 in this fiscal year. State revenues for this fiscal year are $868,805,000. The difference of $18,367,000 between current state spending and current state revenues was financed in part from wartime savings.

"Looking backward at California finance, war material contracts and the spending of a greatly increased population with large earnings cleared out pre-war state deficits. Large reserves—earmarked for state and local construction, future bond interest and redemption charges, and revenue deficiency were established.

"Passage of Proposition No. 4 in 1948—greatly liberalizing aged aid — required abandonment of 1943 tax rate cuts in order to finance the fiscal year 1948-49. Even with passage of Proposition No. 2—restoring former old age aid provisions but retaining the $75 monthly aid — this cost remains high. Added are increased public schools appropriations and other costs.

Seven Items

"Seven items of state expenditure increased nearly $150,000 between 1947-48 and 1950-51. This amount greatly exceeds receipts from restored tax cuts—estimated to be under $100,000,000. In addition, welfare and school costs have increased on the local level, which requires increased property taxes. In the 1949-50 State Budget, subventions to local government and shared taxes constituted nearly half of California's billion dollar expenditures that year. Such state participation is largely to ease the present property tax burden.

"California is second to New York in per capita taxes for state and local governments. In New York, this 1948 per capita was $143, and California, $133. California's 1948 state and local taxes totalled $8.07 per $100 of income payments—fourth in the list of states studied but only 72 cents behind Arizona, the highest state."

War Means More Jobs

JOBS ASSURED IN EIGHT DIFFERENT FIELDS

The Korean crisis has created urgent demands for new workers in eight occupational fields, Veterans Administration announced in a report to its field offices.

The eight fields were selected, the report said, to illustrate the general "tightening up of the labor market" that has resulted from America's mobilization program.

The fields include health professions, grade school teachers, ship radio operators, electronic technicians, scientific and technical professions, skilled metalworkers, railroad jobs, and clerical positions.

Prepared for VA by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, the report will be used in furnishing vocational counseling to veterans.

Highlights

Following are highlights of the report:

Health professions: Shortages of qualified personnel, which existed even before the outbreak of hostilities in Korea, have been intensified by mobilization. Greatest needs are in medicine, dentistry and nursing, but the demand for specialists in other health-service occupations also has grown.

Elementary school teaching: Another profession in which a previous personnel shortage will be intensified. The shortage is likely to be "much worse" than during World War II, for the country now is faced with the need for an increasing force of new teachers to care for great numbers of "war babies" starting school.

High School teaching, on the other hand, was a profession with an "oversupply . . . in most subject fields" during the past year or two. The surplus probably will shrink in the future.

Radio Work

Ship radio operators: In early 1950, long lists of operators were waiting for assignments to ships. With the Korean war, a "startling change" occurred; waiting lists were wiped out and the unions found themselves looking for operators.

Electronic technicians: Because of early defense needs, electronic technicians were in demand even before Korea. The demand became keener after hostilities, and further was intensified as the television industry required more and more skilled workers. Despite growing demands, not all persons with some knowledge of electronics will be able to find jobs; to qualify as a top-notch technician, a person must have "an aptitude for this type of work and enough intelligence to master theoretical electronics."

Demand Heavy

Scientific and technical professions: Demands have been great in the past few months, particularly in engineering, chemistry and other specialties directly related to defense. However, "it is likely that the recent spurt in hiring . . . was partly in advance of actual requirements." The need will continue to grow, but at a slower rate. Greatest shortages are in positions requiring graduate training, thus reducing job competition among less highly trained men.

Skilled metalworkers: Tool and die makers, machinists, molders and others will be in demand during the next few years. However, employers "are cautious about taking on new apprentices," in the belief that needs are for immediate production rather than long-range training. Best chances for apprenticeships will be for young men exempt from military service.

R. R. Help

Railroad employment will be "favorably affected" by expansion in defense production and in the armed forces. The expansion probably will not be uniform; the number of boiler-makers employed, for example, may continue to decline, as the railroads replace more and more steam locomotives with diesel electrics.

Clerical jobs should be relatively easy to get in the near future. Employers once again are faced with problems of high turnover rates, as relatively low-paid office workers move into better-paying war production and government jobs. Further increases in the number of withdrawals from clerical positions and in the demand for replacements are to be expected.

According to the BLS report, large numbers of non-defense jobs also will be providing many openings during the next several years, even though total employment stays near present levels. The reason is a higher rate of turnover, caused by many workers leaving such occupations to take better-salaried defense jobs.

Kids Get Break

DC Lions Club Gives Them Xmas

Thanks to the generosity of the Lions Club and many individuals in this community, Christmas came in all its glory for 52 underprivileged children this year.

Last Friday night the Lions distributed toys, food and clothing to 10 families that might otherwise have been overlooked by Santa Claus.

The baskets contained everything needed to bring Christmas cheer to children and grownups alike.

The Lions went out of their way to make every child happy. One boy wanted a cowboy outfit. As no such outfit was donated, one of the Lions went out and purchased same.

Other Lions, and their friends, worked day and night before Christmas painting toys, reconditioning clothing and packing food baskets.

Drive Chairman Hal Willis today extended his and the Lions Club's thanks to the following organizations: Belli Market, Sprouse-Reitz, Ice Cream Land, Daly City Theatre, Neville Motors, Jim Donahue Plymouth, Cub Scouts, Troop 61 and 62, Jefferson High School sewing class.

These are but a few of the individuals and groups that made the anual Lions Club Christmas an overwhelming success this year.

Grand Jury Chosen

Daly City Woman Picked For Panel

A Daly City housewife and civic leader who served on the 1946-47 San Mateo County grand jury was one of 19 members chosen for 1951 jury service this week.

She is Mrs. Ethel Dorn, 2 Risel avenue. She and eight of her fellow jurors, served on the grand jury four years ago.

Arthur R. Olsen, San Mateo real estate man, was appointed chairman.

Superior Judge Edmund Scott's instructions to the new jury were brief. He made no mention of the gambling question.

He told them to approach the conduct of county government, officials and institutions with honesty and courage, and where needed to take appropriate action.

The chairman noted that the jury was going to concentrate on saving the taxpayers' money.

Thanks Extended Xmas Seal Workers

Thanks and gratitude to the hundreds of volunteer workers who have assisted in the 1950 sale of Tuberculosis Christmas seals in San Mateo County, were expressed today in an open letter to all workers and contributors from the official seal sale committee and its general chairman, Mr. Bradford M. Melvin.

"We are very grateful to all of those who have purchased Christmas seals and we hope that the final outcome of the seal sale will allow full operation of the program of the Tuberculosis and Health Association during 1951," the letter stated.

Volunteers are asked to serve for another two weeks in a final attempt to secure a sufficient quota of contributions to keep all of the work of the association going forward at its current level.

"To both the buyers of Christmas seals and the workers," said Chairman Melvin, "we want to convey our sincere and heartfelt appreciation. If the volunteers will continue their fine assistance for another 14 days, we have a very real hope of reaching the goal that will mean so much in detecting and fighting Tuberculosis in our own home county.

"No San Mateo County Christmas seal sale has ever yet failed and I am confident that our volunteers and those persons who have, thus far, forgotten or have been unable to send in their contributions, will keep this fine record intact."

Caroline Cogeshall

A resident of Daly City for the past 16 years, Mrs. Caroline Cogeshall, 62, 250 Miriam, died at her home Friday evening.

She was the widow of the late Charles Cogeshall and stepmother of Robert Morris and Mrs. Barbara Merydith. There were two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 1 p.m. from the W. C. Lasswell & co. mortuary. Interment was at Olivet Memorial Park.

WET WEATHER PERILS

Name 3 California 4-H State Winners

TOP ranking records in the 1950 national 4-H Field Crops, Dairy Achievement and Home Improvement awards programs have brought state honors to three California club members. Brief outines of their records follow.

Roger Remonda

Jack Wallace

Rose Marie Bettencourt

The thrill of being singled out as winner in the 4-H Field Crops program will never be forgotten by Roger Remonda, 20, of Stockton. Study of new cultivation methods and seed treatment enabled him to do an outstanding job. Roger had completed nine years in livestock project when he decided that to be a successful farmer he would need a more balanced program. Up to this time he was dependent on his father's efforts for livestock. Roger's crops project of barley and alfalfa showed a profit of $17,000 in two years. Most of this was realized from the sale of certified seed. Roger is a member of the California Crop Improvement Association. He has been junior leader of his club the last three years and served in several offices in county and local 4-H. International Harvester provided his award of a National 4-H Club Congress trip.

Achievement in dairy production and management has earned state honors for Jack Wallace, 17, of Arcata, in the 4-H Dairy Achievement program. Dairy practices and care of animals learned in the project has given him an understanding of the principles of sanitation and animal health. Jack also has learned the value of teamwork and sportsmanship. When Jack's family moved from the city to a ranch he got an introduction to farming by joining the 4-H Club. In his first year, he won grand champion with his grade calf at a community fair. After nine years in 4-H, he now has a herd of 24 purebred and grade Jerseys, one white face steer, one hog, 20 rabbits and a four acre field of hay. He has one bull that has been grand champion six times and a cow that has never been defeated in the show ring. Jack made $350 on showing his animals at fairs, and values his project at $4,000. He has been junior leader for the last two years&. Lederle Laboratories provided his award, of a gold-filled watch engraved with his name.

With one eye on enhancing her home and the other on the family pocketbook, Rose Marie Bettencourt, 19, Hanford, succeeded in doing a better job than any other 4-H'er in the state in the home improvement program. Her reward of a National 4-H Club Congress trip was provided by Sears-Roebuck Foundation. Rose Marie decided to start with the bedroom she and her sister shared. She cut down an old iron bed and made a padded head board; then she sanded and painted both a dresser and a chest of drawers. She painted the walls pink, and with her sister worked on curtains, bedspread, dressing-table skirt, and on sanding and varnishing the floor. In addition, Rose Marie has papered and painted other rooms in the house, refinished the piano, and even painted the outside of the house. During seven years in 4-H, Rose Marie has completed 28 projects, and has entered six dress revues. She is leader of a 4-H Club at present, and is also the secretary of the Kings County 4-H Leaders Council.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Eyes Mirror Your Personality

By TONI WOODWARD—ANS

Poets have called eyes "the windows of the soul" . . . and indeed they are—for they mirror your personality . . . express every emotion . . . speak even when your lips are sealed. Therefore, eye make-up, deftly applied, takes on added importance.

To help you glamorize your most expressive feature, we pass along some valuable eye-beauty tips from Winx, creators of mascara, eyebrow pencil and eye shadow.

Movie star Gail Russel realizes the leading beauty role played by the eyes. She is shown here applying mascara with gentle upward stroke that helps curl the upper lashes.

Don't be afraid to experiment. After completing your eye make-up, look at yourself in the mirror—closely, at a distance, sideways and with head tilted forward and backward. Try to see yourself as others see you . . . learn to look your best from every angle.

Shun artificiality. Look natural. Don't over-do eye make-up. Use your eyebrow pencil to develop your natural contours. The thin line and the "plucked" look are out of fashion. (Don't forget to pluck grey or wandering hairs, though, for a neat appearance.) In winxing the brows, keep the pencil away from your skin except at the beginning and ending of the brows. Simply touch up the hair, working from inner to outer ends. Brown pencil is best for blondes, black for brunettes.

Apply eye shadow lightly, with most of it on lower part of upper lids. Blend it softly to the edge and almost up to the eyebrow, but not quite to the nose. Never put any on your lower lids for it produces a sunken effect that makes you look older.

Mascara, either in cake or cream form, is easily applied with a brush. You gently stroke the upper lashes in an upward direction from the root to the tip to curl them. Use a downward stroke for the lower lashes. It's a good idea to remove all mascara every night, so your lashes never become "caked" from too many applications of make-up. This is easy to do by stroking the lashes downward with absorbent cotton dipped in warm, soapy water.

Sanity Of Cabbie Killer Considered

A report on the sanity of the 18-year-old Sacramento youth who shot and killed Daly City cab driver Ronald E. Booth, 31, December 14, will be released Friday.

Harold Harmon was released from San Francisco Hospital this week for transfer to Hollister near where he admittedly shot Booth after forcing him out of his cab.

Hospital authorities, who have observed Harmon for a week, will report on his sanity. Even if he is judged insane, he may still be tried for murder.

New Year's Family Night

SPECIAL CHURCH EVENT PLANNED

A family night at the Grace Presbyterian Church will mark the advent of the New Year, Rev. William Harberts announced today.

The evening will begin Sunday at 7 p.m. Films that were taken at the laying of the new church's corner stone will be shown, as well as of the first service held in the church.

Devotional services will be held in the sanctuary at 11 p.m.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Rev. Harberts today invited all neighbors and friends of the church to attend the special New Year's Eve family night.

Volunteers Needed For State Defense

While there's a lot of talk about civilian defense, the state is having trouble recruiting the needed 1,500,000 civilian defense volunteers.

The state's defense plan is almost complete, but now recruits are needed, Walter M. Robertson, state civil defense director, said this week.

In addition to 45,000 auxiliary law enforcement officers and 350,000 air raid wardens, it is the hope of the state to train 3,500,000 Californians . . . one in every family for first aid work.

Turning to the recent 3,000,000,000 federal government civil defense bill, Robertson said California will receive the money on a matching basis of 54 per cent federal money and 46 per cent state.

Some $125,000,000 will be used by the state for shelters, and about $30,000,000 for othr civilian defense purposes.

Air Raid Data

What Not To Do For Householders

Four emphatic Don't's for householders concerning utilities in the event of an air raid have been determined by Maj. Gen Walter M. Robertson, State Director of Civil Defense.

"In view of numerous conflicting instructions from sources other than the Office of Civil Defense which have been publicized on the subject of action to be taken with relation to utilities in the event of a major attack," Gen. Robertson said, "the California Office of Civil Defense is issuing the following directives:

"Don't shut off your gas service cock! You may need the heat during the emergency alert and dangerous accumulations of gas may be released into homes or buildings if service is restored by untrained people.

"Don't shut off your electricity! You may want your radio which may be your only means of receiving official instructions, or your clock, or a hot plate, or even a light in your shelter.

"Don't shut off your water service! You may need your sanitary facilities or water may be needed quickly to put out small fires.

"Don't draw quantities of water into bathtubs or other containers! This will only reduce pressure in the mains and also result in an unneccessary waste of water which may be badly needed. Storage water heaters have sufficient supplies for emergency drinking and cooking needs."

Gen. Robertson explained that the "Don'ts" are the result of conferences with utility engineers and members of the Office of Civil Defense staff assigned to the subject.

"Your gas, electricity, or water utility has emergency operating procedures which are designed to best safeguard the community," Gen. Robertson said. "When safety measures are necesary, utility supplies can be cut off in danger areas most effectively by utility service crews. Follow the advise of your local utility manager."

Irons, toasters, stoves and other appliances, in the event of an alert, should be shut off as though the householder were going out for the day, Gen. Robertson added.

Local Man Takes Relief Course

Clarence R. Spicer, a Naval civilian employee of 64 Alexander ave., Daly City, is a graduate of the Disaster Relief Class held recently at the U. S. Naval Civil Engineer Corps Officers School, Naval Construction Battalion Center, Port Hueneme, Calif.

The class completed a course designed to acquaint officers and key civilians of the Naval establishment with the principles of disaster relief planning, particularly as it applies to engineering requirements for disaster operations.

Basic instruction is given to enable graduates to organize units for the protection of personnel, control of damage and restoration of essential services in the event of a catastrophe.

Ohhh!...STEAK UNDER GLASS

IMAGINE BEING ABLE TO BROIL thick, juicy steaks or even lamb chops without a smoke screen hovering over your kitchen or grease on your range! This new miracle way keeps even more of the flavorful juices in your food, and browns to your taste better than ever. How? . . . This housewife explains . . . you broil under glass with the new Philco electric range. A tempered glass plate under the broiler coils keeps spattering grease off the red-hot coils and assures smoke-less cooking. At the same time, the glass permits infra-red heat rays to penetrate food and cook rapidly, while retaining the rich natural meat juices . . . Is easy to clean, too, by wiping with a damp cloth right in the oven. Or the unit slips out readily for washing at the sink. Other features include automatic cooking with simple controls, an interval timer, automatic cooking timer, electric clock and timed appliance outlet. ANS Features.

young Homemakers Corner

By NANCY COOK—ANS Features

SKIN CARE BEGINS WITH THE BATH. Now that the weather has turned crisp and cool, young mothers should take special care to protect baby's satiny skin. With a few extra precautions during the bath hour and the help of a new baby lotion containing lanolin and an antiseptic, there's no reason why discomforts of chafing and rough, chapped skin can't be eliminated.

In bathing baby, you might use a strategically-placed screen to ward off drafts, and keep an electric heater handy to offset heat deficiencies. Arrange your cherub's clean clothes, diapers, his special baby lotion, soap, towels, sterile cotton balls, and washcloths in range to make short, easy work of the bath ritual. Wrap baby in a bath towel as you take him from the tub and make sure to dry him completely. Then pat him thoroughly all over with his special baby lotion, giving strict attention to all the tiny folds and creases. This newest infant skin aid is an oil-in-water emulsion with lanolin and a new antiseptic(hexachlorophene) added. Good news, too, for young mothers, is that the new-formula lotion actually kills germs that cause the most common and stubborn skin ailments of infancy—impetigo and diaper rash. By killing the responsible germs, it also prevents diaper odor.

This baby lotion is good for Mother's hands, too. It will help keep them petal-soft from Jack Frost's bite.

WHEN TRAVELING with children, it's a good idea to take along a small jar filled with moistened sterile gauze pads. These sterile pads are good for cleaning sticky hands and faces and for general freshening up. As a first-aid item, there's nothing like them for applying antiseptics, or protecting a cut.

When moistened with skin freshener, they are ideal cosmetic aids for young mothers. Saturate them with witch hazel and place over closed eyelids for five minutes—they're soothing to tired eyes.

CUBS MAKE CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

Pack No. 36 Members Prepare Gifts For Families...Wall Tiles To Glasses

By MRS. E. K. WHINNEN

Cubs in Dens 15 and 16 of Pack 36, had a busy time of it before Christmas making presents for their parents.

Each Cub made a gift for his father and one for his mother. A variety of decorative wall tiles for kitchen, bathroom and breakfast nook were made for the mothers and tall glasses, with "Dad" painted on them, and baked in the oven for permanency, were made for the fathers. The boys worked hard on their presents, and if they weren't quite perfect, why that's as it should be.

What parent would trade the endearing imperfections of a small boy for a perfect thing he could buy in any store?

Den Meet

The last den meeting of the Christmas season was devoted to the merriment and good will of Christmas. Many cakes with beautiful icings were in evidence, with cookies, chocolate soda, to the boys hearts' content. Presents were exchanged between cubs, and Den Mother Irene Rosenberg presented each one of her cubs with a present. Many of the boys brought their den mother presents, too.

For the last few meetings dens 15 and 16 have been combined for convenience, since Alice Tylenda has been assisting Irene Rosenberg during her convalescence.

The Christmas party of Pack 36 was well attended, with all the ice cream and cookies the boys and their families could eat. Each child who attended brought a present so that every child had one.

Leader Resigns

Due to other pressing duties Charles Duckering is leaving Cub Pack 36 as pack leader, and is being succeeded by Mr. Irwin Schmidt, who had the pack some years ago.

Schmidt is an able leader of boys, having run a boy's camp for fifty scouts this last summer.

The camp is located up in the mountains near the forest reserve and it was through the good offices of the forest rangers that the camp site was made available for the boys. It is not on the forest reserve, but the rangers went to bat for the boys and secured a five year lease. The camp is strictly an out door camp. All the cooking and sleeping is done out of doors. Each boy may stay two weeks. Before a boy is allowed to swim in the deep pool he must first pass a swimming test in the shallow pool. Last summer, Schmidt illustrated, a boy's father came up to the camp to visit his son and gave him permission to swim in the deep pool without first consulting the camp directors. As a result the boy was nearly drowned. He had gone down for the third time before he was rescued.

Short Visit

Vincent, who was so active in the pack last year, paid a visit and made a short talk.

Schwartz, who heads the boy scout movement for this area, came in and gave each boy a calendar illustrated by Norman Rockwell. He told the pack that 12 million copies of the scout calander are printed and given out each year. He also informed us that Rockwell got his start as an illustrator on "Boy's Life," the scout magazine. Each of the den mothers and assistants were also given a larger calendar, with the same illustration.

Birthday Party

Lee and Dean Howett Feted

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Howett, 55 First street, gave a surprise party for their two sons recently.

Lee Howett was 8-years-old December 8, and Dean was just one year old December 15.

Those present included: Dennis Bottaro, Ralph Cristoni, Frankie Mennucci, Dennis Tholen, Dean Tholen, Dean Howett, Lee Howett, Joy Messina, Rosemarie Martini, Joann Nano and Wilma Tholen.

All the guests sang "Happy Birthday" to Lee and Dean. Later each child received a present from the two boys.

Meanwhile, the parents were served refreshments. Parents present were Mr. and Mrs. John Bottaro of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Vic Cristoni, 60 E. Cavour; Mrs. Opan Mitchum of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Philes of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chiado, 1269 Green street.

Also on hand were Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Martini, Mrs. Mary Nano, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Martini, Mrs. Joe Messina. Mr. Messina was not able to come as he was taking part in a bowling contest.

Colma Couple Become Grandparents Twice . . . Within Ten Days

Although they have gone many years without the prefix "grandparents," Mr. and Mrs. John Olcese of Colma were twice blessed with this title within 10 days.

December 10 Mrs. Guido Beroldo (the former Mary Olcese) gave birth to a 6 pound 13 ounce baby girl at Mills Memorial hospital. The girl was named Marilyn.

The Olcese family rejoiced.

But then, on December 20, Mrs. George Schenone (the former Elsie Olcese) gave birth to a 7 pound 14 ounce baby girl at the same hospital. This child was named Linda Susan.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Olcese have two new 'daughters." There is no report of any grandsons making an appearance in the near future.

Bit of Ireland

Irish Clans Set New Year's Ball

The Irish clans and their families of the San Francisco and East Bay area are in festive mood as the date draws near for the annual New Year's Eve Ball in the K.R.B. Hall, 1133 Misesion Street, under the auspices of Company "A" Irish Volunteers.

Captain John Waters, chairman, states that arrangements have been made to accomodate a capacity gathering at this popular venue.

The program is in the hands of a hard working committee, comprising Jack Murphy, Jerry Boyle, Tom Regan, Tommy Moynihan, Tom Farrell, Terry Sweeney, Liam Costello and Martin Murphy.

Popular American dances will be on the program and Old County Sets and other favorite numbers will be featured from 9 o'clock on New Year's Eve to one o'clock on the arrival of the New Year.

Busy Month

Legion Spreads Xmas Cheer

At the regular meeting of the Twenty Sixth District American Legion Auxiliary presided over by Mrs. August Hansen of Daly City and held at the Milbrae Legion Hall, with Milbrae Unit as hostess, indications were that the Auxiliary members of the Twenty Sixth District have been have been having a very busy month. The month began with the staffing and maintaining by the officers and members of the District of the "Gift Shoppe" at the Veterans Facility. This regular yearly project is supplied with gifts free of charge to the patients. These gifts are displayed for the patients to select for their families and are then wrapped and shipped to any destination for them. For the patients who are unable to attend the shop, gifts are taken around the wards for them to select.

Forty eight ladies of the District worked on this project with Mrs. Louis Casaretto, of Menlo Park, the Hospital Coordinator as chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. Frank Gomes of San Mateo, the District Hospital and patients welfare chairman.

Twenty eight of the District members assisted in the gift wrapping project of the Peninsula Veterans Hospital Christmas Committee.

Child welfare chairman Evelyn Beck of San Bruno reported that Christmas parties were being given for the Childrens Ward of the Community hospital and also at the children's Health Home in San Mateo.

On December 20 an afternoon party was given for Women Veterans in the Palo Alto Facility by the Past Presidents Parlay of the District.

After various other reports the meeting was closed with a Christmas program of dancing by the "Sweetheart of Milbrae Post," Miss Garilyn Jeffery of Millbrae. Refreshments were served in the holiday theme.

SOCIETY

Betrothal Told

Eleanor Salogga To Make Vows

At a family gathering hosted last Saturday evening by the Louis Gambas of San Francisco, announcement was made of the betrothal of Eleanor Salogga to their son Richard Gamba.

The betrothal cards of the popular young people were found in Santa's tiny red boots, placed at each one's plate at the midnight supper.

Eleanor is the oldest daughter of Mrs. Reidar Lof, and the sister of Mr. and Mrs. Al Salagga of Daly City. She is a graduate of Jefferson High School (class of 1950), and is presently employed by a San Francisco firm.

The bridegroom-to-be is also a graduate of Jefferson High School (class of 1948) and a resident of Daly City for 17 years. He is the bother of Raymond Gamba of San Francisco and Mrs. Lorelei Hughes of Menlo Park. He holds a position with a South San Francisco firm.

Friends and relatives of the bride and groom-to-be who attended the party include: William and Clara Allen; George and Lois Lasher; Elliott, Florence and Michael Thompson; Richard and Lorelei Hughes; Mrs. Florence Thompson Sr.; Miss Barbara King.

Pete Fritz, Evelyn Hughes; Charlie and Vivian Lasher; Constant and Julia Leonard; Wesley and Inez Lasher; Ray, Marian and Janice Gamba; Robert Huntington; Barbara and Darlene Lasher and Cora Lasher.

QUEEN ELEANOR—Lovely Eleanor Payne, 17-year-old co-ed at Pasadena City College, will reign as queen of the 1951 Tournament of Roses. Queen Eleanor, who was selected from more than 3,000 contestants, majors in commercial art and is planning a career as an artist or teacher. She stands 5 feet 6½ inches tall, weighs 117 pounds and has blue-green eyes. Eleanor will ride with her court of six comely princesses at the head of the Rose Parade in Pasadena next New Year's Day on a beautiful flower-covered float.

Colma PTA

MEMBERS WISH ALL HAPPY NEW YEAR

By MARJORIE HOPPER

The Colma PTA wishes you had a very Merry Christmas and heartily wishes you have a Happy New Year!

The Executive Board met Tuesday, December 19, at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Hopper for the Christmas party, and board meeting. Those present brought gifts and drew numbers. We were served refreshments. A large Christmas decorated cake was donated by Mrs. Dale J. Stokely, and enjoyed by all.

Our next general meeting will be January 9, 1951, at the Colma Community Center. Starting promptly at 1:30 p.m., our program will have very important items of interest to the members.

Our nominating committee will be elected from the floor. Also, Miss Marie Traynor will have charge of the study group during the meeting. It will consist of parent education topics.

Last time we had a very enlightening movie, and the only thing that was wrong was not enough people attended. Our Honorary Membership Committee will have the report for the Honorary Life Membership at this meeting.

Our Health Chairman, Mrs. Jack Clayton, has expressed the thanks to all parents who helped in the drive for the needy. It was a very successful response. Thank you again.

Mrs. Louis Bertetta, Chairman of Recreation, expresses her appreciation for the help given to her on the movie project, Christmas party of the Daly City Recreation department.

Court St. Mary Greets Santa

Chalked up as a great success today is the recent Christmas party staged by Court St. Mary No. 1155, CDA.

Some 125 members and children turned up for the party. Marriment ran high when Santa appeared on the scene to hand out presents and goodies to the children. After joining them in Christmas Carols he bid them goodbye until next year.

The party closed with a movie and refreshments.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Richard J. Ennis, grand regent, extends her greetings to all members for a happy holiday.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, January 3, at the Masonic Temple, 14 Hillcrest drive.

The Grand Occasion

For any grand occasion or formal reception, Ted Shore designs this stunning new sheath dress of black Chamalure, a Celanese faille crepe of acetate rayon which lends itself to the soft draping of the folds over one hip, where a huge rose nestles in a border of black lace. The elegant bodice is of black Chantilly-type lace over a flesh colored foundation. Although not shown, this dress has its own matching crepe jacket which is fitted to the waistline and has below-elbow sleeves.—ANS Features

Replicas of Treasured Heirlooms

By NANCY COOK—ANS Features

Years ago our grandmothers spent endless hours fashioning handmade counterpanes that are the heirlooms of today. If you're not so fortunate as to own one of these, don't despair . . . for a hundred years later—during this Bates Centennial Anniversary year—it's possible to own a quilt equally as beautiful, so like the old-fashioned handmade ones, that it will be your prize possession for years to come. "Centennial," pictured above, is one of three styles presented in this anniversary series. It represents a faithful reproduction of a priceless 19th century original—one of the few handmade heirloom counterpanes preserved today in museums and private collections.

Coverlets of the 19th century era were carefully padded, delicately stitched by hand and took years to make, but modern ingenuity has discovered how to make the same thing by machine. The delicate stitching, the mellowed color, and the lovely patterns are reproduced exactly, yet they are available at prices that span the gap between sensible budgets and discriminating tastes.

Improved Version of Old-Fashioned Handmade Quilts

These treasured copies of old-fashioned homemade quilts are permanently puffed, pre-shrunk and easily washable. Due to the precision of the processing, however, they are now being produced only in limited quantities . . . and today's version will be tomorrow's heirloom for they are loomed to last even longer than the handmade originals.

Make Ideal Gifts Which Blend With Any Decor

The three Bates bedspreads in this anniversary series come in white only, and their rich designs make a charming focal point of interest in a room of modern or traditional decor. Attractively gift-boxed, their modest price makes them fine gifts for any occasion.

In the room setting above, "Centennial"—with its neat ball fringe—is shown in what is known as the "topper" size. The "topper" is designed to be used on either a single or double bed, with a gay broadcloth dust ruffle which is available in a wide range of decorator colors. "Centennial" also comes in a full bedspread size to fit either a single or double bed, and has string fringe around the edge.

Novel Party Cupcakes Convey Your Best Wishes for a Happy New Year

ON New Year's Eve everybody seems to be divided into two categories: those who are going to parties and those who are giving them! If you are one of the latter group, planning to hold open house on the eve of '51, you will find your buffet the focal point most of the evening.

You can do yourself proud with very little effort. Around your bowl of eggnog, range platters of sliced turkey and ham, as well as two or three different types of salad. The guests can help themselves. It saves wear and tear on the hostess. Your dessert course can double as a New Year's decoration at each end of the buffet. Cupcakes frosted with Snowflake Icing and each individually decorated with a letter and number put on with melted chocolate spelling out "HAPPY NEW YEAR 1951". The frosting is a quick and easy one made with sweetened condensed milk. Blended with the other ingredients, sweetened condensed milk gives you a smooth rich white frosting that spreads easily on the cupcakes and makes a toothsome treat for your guests. Don't try making this recipe with any other kind of milk that comes in a can because it will only work with sweetened condensed milk.

Snowflake Icing
(Makes about 1 1-4 cups)

2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2-1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar

Cream butter. Blend in half of the sweetened condensed milk. Stir in vanilla. Gradually beat in sugar, alternating with remaining sweetened condensed milk. Frosting will be of a thin spreading consistency.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUniper 4-6449

Christmas is behind us, but where there are children, the clutter remains. The mere act of walking through a room presents a hazard, what with odd roller skates, trains, cars, dolls, etc., left behind while the kids play with an old box top we threw out a week ago. The turkey hash has disappeared, and there only remains the mess of taking down the tree to put another Christmas behind us.

For the most part, the valley people observed Christmas in a quiet way at home. Up and down the streets, there were few homes that were dark, and parked cars told a story of company and families together. When we pick up a paper and read of 900 tickets written in two days for driving while intoxicated in just one town, we can look around us here at home and get a good feeling from the fact that there are still many that observe this time of year as a time for reverence and gladness.

New Officers

The Bayshore Improvement Club installed officers for the coming year last week. Here's the rundown. Frank Semiet, Chairman, Jim Mills, Vice-President, Ruth Shaffer, Secretary, and Warren Fowler as Seargent-at-arms.

At the November meeting of the Improvement Club, it was moved that two letters be written. One was to the County Road Dept., in regard to the drainage of water at Geneva Ave. and Schwerin Sts. The club asked the county to take some action to remedy the situation at that corner after heavy rains. The water collects there and it is difficult to cross at the intersection.

To date, no answer has been received to their letter. We did receive an answer to another letter however, this one just as important to the district. It went to the County Dept of Public Health, and contained two complaints. One of them was the overwhelming number of flies that seem to appear after a show at the Cow Palace, and we asked the Dept. of Health to contact the Cow Palace in regard to their method of refuse disposal after their shows. The other complaint dealt with the odors that drift into the valley from the Consolidated Chemical Plant, on Bayshore Highway.

Letter Noted

Here is part of the letter that was received from Eugene M. Howell, the Public Health Engineer. "Our district sanitation has been working with operators of the Cow Palace in correcting the bad situation of manure disposal. This problem is becoming more critical as San Mateo County develops more and more residences, and, therefore reduces the amount of agricultural land which formerly used this manure. The Cow Palace authorities have been requested to do spraying in order to control this situation temporarily and before the next year, a more sanitary method of manure disposal must be developed." All we can do is hope that by next year they do find a better way to clean up the straw and manure that collects and causes the neighbors discomfort.

Mr. Howel went on to say that Consolidated Chemical Company has installed a scrubber on their cookers, which should remove a large percentage of the odors, but that aditional attention must be given to reducing the odors that are still omitted.

More Attention

Any additional attention that is given to this matter would be appreciated by the majority of residents in Bayshore. There are times when that smell would gag a vulture.

Mrs. Rachel Higgins has given up her Cub Den more or less temporarily, we hope. Rachel's baby is due about the middle of January, but she tells us that as soon as she is on her feet again, she will try to take her Cubs back. We hope so. She makes a fine Den Mother.

Alene and Louis Filarski made a trip to Hanford the week before Christmas, to visit both of their parents. Alene brought her mother back for a visit here in the valley.

The Mr. and Mrs. Club is giving a New Year's party for members and friends. Those blow-outs are always fun, and this one sounds as though it will be no exception.

Party Places

The Improvement Club also plans a New Year's party, sponsored by the officers of the club. The party will be held at the Sanitation Hall on Geneva Ave.

The Bayshore Veteran Fireman's Association will hold a private party to welcome the New Year on Saturday evening, the 30th of Dec., also at the Sanitation Hall.

All this goes to prove that many Bayshore people will celebrate the arival of 1951 in the valley. Sounds like a good idea. I may be a bit timid, but the idea of taking an automobile out on that particular evening gives me butterflies in the stomach. Good luck to all of you, and may you find enough baby sitters to go around.

SPORTS

OFF THE RECORD

By Roy Hurlbert

BOWLING AROUND

How about that? Bowl game time again. So here goes.

CALIFORNIA 20 Michigan 13: If the Bears can't get by the Wolverines Monday they should stay in Pasadena. The Pacific Coast needs the uplift of a victory.

California has the guns aplenty. Michigan always gives a good account of herself anywhere. There should be enough platoons on the field to fill a division for Korea.

We expect a free-scoring ball game. Pappy's ground game should be better than that offered by the Ann Arborites. Less tricky, too. Chucking Carlie Ortmann leads a confusing single wing attack that could befuddle the Bears fatally.

As in the past, the breaks might tell the tale. California is overdue for a few off their last two Pasadena blunders. The Bears were outlucked versus Northwestern and Ohio States.

Also there's a slight matter of prestige. Big Ten teams have whacked P.C.C. representatives the last four years in the Southland arena. It's time something was done to even the hurts.

A Michigan win would be a double dose of embarassment. Bennie Oosterbaan's club brings the "worst" record in some 25 years to Pasadena. They've lost THREE games, tied ONE and taken FIVE triumphs. Waldorf's Wonders are high, wide and handsome with NINE wins NO losses and that Stanford TIE. Michigan, no doubt, has a schedule advantage. They met good teams each Saturday. California experienced less pressure all the way. But the Bears are tough when the chips are down. Just remember their 14-7 win over Washington and that 35-0 rout of contending UCLA a week later.

The '50 Bears are pretty young to be sporting a championship. This wasn't supposed to be their turn, you know. The third-time-charm adage should work Monday or forever let it rest in peace. California's overall Rose Bowl record is TWO wins THREE losses and ONE tie. Room for improvement here also.

Michigan's two other Pasadena performances were identical jobs. In '02, when men were men and horses were cars, Fielding Yost's point-a-minute aggregation murdered Stanford, 49-0. Forty seven years later in '49 another Michigan outfit slugged Southern California, seven t.d.'s to zero.

We realize the Wolverines like to be consistent, but havn't the Bears got more to fight for? Everyone West of the Mississippi will be behind the Blue and Gold of Cal to put out the Ann Arbor-lights.

The 36th Rose Bowl attraction Monday should be quite a ball game. For the life of us and of Western football, we hope the Bears will come home with their heads high.

KENTUCKY 14 Oklahoma 13: This Sugar Bowl biggie pits the No. 1 team in the country against the seventh-ranking club. The Sooners' remarkable 31 game unbeaten streak could end here. What happens when a high-scoring team clashes with a great defensive eleven will be the outcome. Kentucky has held five of 11 opponents scoreless. They've outscored Oklahoma, 380 to 345.

In addition, Coach Bear Bryant's team plays in a tougher league. Vito "Babe" Parilli's throwing arm should give the men from the Blue Grass the edge in a tight, nerve-busting ball game.

TEXAS 27 Tennessee 13: The Longhorns will be a bum steer for the Volunteers, in their Cotton Bowl rodeo at Dallas. Give Texas the home court advantage. There are a lot of folks in Lone Star Territory and they make quite a fuss. Texas lost to powerful Oklahoma by one point. Tennessee stopped Kentucky 7-0. If both teams are "on" we'll settle for a deadlock. Otherwise give the nod to the Longhorns.

CLEMSON 14 Miami 7: In the Orange Bowl. Both are unbeaten but once-tied. Clemson's Tigers are the class of the Southern Conference. Miami has its best crew in years. The team that scores last will win, it's that much of a tossup. Who will it be, the Hurricanes or the Tigers? Here kitty, kitty, kitty!

LEFT-OVERS

USC fired Head Coach Jeff Cravath last week. What are they trying to do, win football games? Had Cravath been booted a year ago the Trojans most likely would be in the Rose Bowl Monday.

Cleveland's thrilling 30-28 verdict over Los Angeles in pro football's playoff Sunday was a fiction-writer's dream come-true. In five years of pro-balling, the Browns have been champs five times. One thousand per cent. They face the best in the business this year and still stay on top. And somebody said Paul Brown is interested in returning to college coaching. It doesn't figure.

They say they can't come back in boxing parlance. Maybe they're right. Joe Louis thinks he still has what it takes to be the top heavyweight in the world. Ringsiders in the "know" feel otherwise. The Brown Bomber's lackluster battle with Cesar Brion, mediocre Agentine king, bore traces of his over-the-hill state. Even if Joe gets another shot at Ezzard Charles, we don't think he can recapture his crown. Charles is a good boy and Louis is an old one.

SOUTHERNERS FEATURE CAGE DOUBLE HEADERS AT COW PALACE

Intersectional flavor with a touch of the deep South will pervade the Cow Palace tonight and tomorrow night with two outstanding doubleheader basketball programs.

Junketing up this way for court action are fives from Georgia Tech, Louisiana State and Southern California.

St. Mary's, USF, and California will attempt to upheld the local cause against the invaders.

Tonight, Thursday December 28, the Rambling Wrecks from down Georgia way will square off with Phil Woolpert's Hilltop Dons in the 7:45 opener. St. Mary's, a coming independent, will match baskets with the men of Troy, in the second feature.

Tomorrow night, Friday, California's Golden Bears will go after Georgia Tech and in the curtain-dropper Louisiana State will test USC's touted PCC southern division contenders.

In pre-Xmas action, Oklahoma A&M knocked off California, 58 to 46, and Washington State measured University of San Francisco, 53 to 45.

After the California sweep, Oklahoma's Aggies were rated third best cage team in the nation. They are just one of MANY outstanding suintets to show this season in the Geneva Avenue Cow Palace, the West's, if not the country's best arena for basketball.

CONSERVATION MEET SPEAKER ANNOUNCED

Dr. Stanley A. Cain, professor of conservation at the University of Michigan's school of natural resources, will be principal speaker at the Second Regional Conference on Conservation to be held in Berkeley January 25 to 27.

He is scheduled to speak the evening of January 26 when a general session will be held. More than 1000 representatives of organizations in 12 Bay Area counties are expected to attend.

The first regional conference was held in Pasadena earlier this year. Others are planned annually and sponsors hope a practical plan of conserving California's natural resources will result.

Co-sponsors of the 1951 conference are the State Departments of Natural Resources and Education and University of California. Sessions will be held in Wheeler Hall on the Berkeley campus.

Hunters Make Big Fur Haul

California hunters and trappers accounted for a total haul of 75,008 fur-bearers and predatory animals during the 1949-50 fiscal year, it has been announced by the Division of Fish and Game.

Included in the total of wildlife enemies taken were 13,511 coyotes, 5,729 bobcats, and 243 mountain lions.

The 12-month report revealed that 157 hunters and trappers were employed by Federal, State, and County governments. Total cost to these agencies was $673,785.

Licensed commercial trappers sold their annual take of furs and pelts for $266,391.

A total of 225 nuisance beavers was trapped from agricultural areas and transplanted to higher elevations.

Mountain lion bounties paid out by the Division's Bureau of Game Conservation amounted to $13,340. Bounties of $50 for males and $60 for females are paid out of the State Fish and Game Preservation Fund. From their share of the same Fund. counties awarded bounties totalling $24,340 for lions, bobcats, and coyotes.

The annual record kept by the State Division showed 51 hunter-trappers on the Bureau of Game Conservation payroll; 99 paid by the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service; and 7 employed by the County of Mendocino.

Colma Woman Gets $17,000 Settlement

An out of court settlement of $17,000 was awarded Mrs. Pasquena Turriano of Colma December 18 for a leg injury for which she had claimed $100,000.

The settlement was made by a San Francisco doctor.

Action had been scheduled for trial in the Superior Court of San Francisco when the settlement was made.

Mrs. Turriano was represented by the law offices of Thomas L. Bocci Jr., 6654 Mission street.

SARTO AC ENTERS TITLE PLAYOFFS IN PARK LOOP CLASH WITH VOGEL'S

Mossi Or Rubsic Will Start Sunday; Pro Scouts Eye Sarto Baseball Talent

Manager Vic Baher's Sarto Athletic Club nine goes after the first leg of the Golden Gate Park League championship this Sunday against Les Vogel's in Golden Gate Park at 2 p.m.

Either Don Mossi or Johnny Rubsic will hurl against the cardealers.

The winner of Sunday's game meets Foster's Lunch for the league title the following week.

Sarto AC, Foster's and Les Vogel's all finished the first-half of a round-robin schedule with seven wins and two losses to deadlock for first-place. Sarto AC defeated both rivals in regular play.

After the championship playoffs, the second half of league play will start.

At a Managers' Association meeting Tuesday night, members voted to split the Golden Gate League into two branches for the second half of the round-robin sechedule.

Tough League

Sarto AC will play in the roughest of the five-team circuits since both Les Vogel's and Foster's are in the same branch.

The second half calls for 10 games for each team with the winner of each league will meet for the pennant.

Baher's boys got a forfeit win last Sunday when Mike Chioino's club failed to show for a G.G.P.L. tilt. Instead, Sarto AC engaged the Sarto Juniors and eked out a 2-0 win. Rubsic helped his own pitching cause with a single and double.

Rubsic, incidentally, will depart the Sarto AC fold soon for studies at California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo. Johnny, a solid pro prospect, received an athletic scholarship to the southern school.

Scouts View

Three of the Sarto Junior players have been watched by major league baseball scouts of late. Scouts are busy these days signing up young players before Uncle Sam beckons their way. Catcher Alex Findlay, Infielder Kermit Sterling and Pitcher Gil Quinones are weighing pro offers. Also the object of much attention lately is Sarto AC third baseman, Johnny Olcese. Olcese may become pro property any day now.

ANGLING ANGLES

by old Hi

Those of us who troll in lakes for bass, pike, walleyes and mackinaw trout or togue during the hot days of July and August sometimes find the water filled with tiny algae plants. This is when the lakes are known to be "working" or "in bloom," and when it's difficult to get the fish to strike live baits or artificial lures.

Under these conditions you should search for the lanes where the lake currents — set in motion by force of the winds — are strongest, for this action causes the water to be clearer in that area and instills a bit more oxygen. Game fish may be located in those lanes, where they will be more active, and so your trolling efforts will meet with better success.

During these warm weather days, too, you must discover the springholes, and this may be done both by using a lake thermometer and by taking depths with a measured sounding line. This causes you a little extra work, but it pays big dividends in long-term sport when you have "mapped out" the bottom conditions of your favorite lake. A big help in this respect is to obtain a topographic map of the lake you are going to fish, and then study the contour lines.

Have you ever "skittered" for pickerel, northern pike, or black bass when they are hiding beneath the lily pads in shallow water? This method often brings the big boys to net in early morning or late evening when fly casting doesn't seem to be as effective. Generally a 12-to-16 foot cane pole is used, with a stout linen blackjack line about half the length of the pole, a long-shank double-snelled mastercraft hook of size 1/0, and a pork chunk, frog or belly strip of perch for bait.

You dabble and skitter this bait among the lily pad clusters, stumps, and protruding logs, and in the narrow set-backs. The fish dart up and smash into the bait, you set the hook firmly, steer the fish away from entanglements, and play them until they are completely tuckered.

If you are to be near the seashore this summer, be sure to take your regular bait and fly casting outfits with you, for this tackle can be used successfully on many ocean fish and will give you some rare sport. Take large plugs and spoons, and streamer flies and big spinners.

For particulars on these and other methods, send for your free copies of the booklets "Salt Water Sports Fishing" and "Pacific Coastal Fishing." Just mail a penny postcard request to me, Old Hi, in care of this newspaper. Also ask for your copy of the fresh water booklet "Fishing For The Millions."

Improvements Set For Rifle Range

The National Production Authority ban on construction does not apply to improvements planned for San Francisco's Municipal Rifle Range at Sharp Park, it was announced today by Harvey E. Teller, General Manager of the Recreation and Park Department.

According to written permission to proceed with the work received by Teller from W. H. Harrison, N.P.A. Administrator, a specific exception has been made on this project because the facilities will be available to the Armed Forces. Enforcement of the ban would not be in the interest of National Defense.

Improvements contemplated by the Recreation and Park Department consists of construction of a convenience station as well as a general facilities building to be used as the range master's headquarters for control of the firing, a ticket office, and storage room for targets and equipment.

The rifle range was completed and opened to the public early this year. It has 125 firing points and at the present time is restricted for the use of pistols and smallbore rifles only. The range is opened to the public on Saturdays and Sundays for use under supervision of the range master assigned to the work by the Recreation and Park Department.

EXTRA CAUTION

Use extra caution when walking across streets just after sundown, advises the National Automobile Club. Visibility is very por during the early evening hours, and wise pedestrians cross only at intersections and after looking both ways for approaching vehicles.

Sportswomen Hold Party

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE TO OPEN SOON

By MRS. E. K. WHINNEN

The first meeting conducted by the new officers of the D. C. Sportswomen was a Christmas party, primarily, with a short business meeting necessitated by the urgency of naming delegates to the seventh District Council.

The business disposed of, the meeting was dismissed and all entered into the spirit of Christmas.

The refreshments were new and different and a nice change from our usual ice cream and cake or cookies. A dip for dipping potato chips into, was particularly tasty. There were also little sandwiches, open face, of different mixtures. After every one had finished with refreshments, the presents were drawn and opened. Though none were over a dollar they were all nice little gifts, expressing the good wishes of the giver.

Delegates

There are the new delegates named to District Council Seven: Mary Shalkowski, Mary Sullivan, delegates to District Seven last year and redelegated because of the good job they performed, Jo Flansburg, a new member, Frances Nenstiel, and Mildred Whinnen. Alternates: Irene Maloney, Leonora O'Neill, and Laurien Fox.

The club is looking forward to welcoming several new members at the next meeting, January 17. Many have indicated a wish to visit with a view to joining, and they shall be welcomed most cordially. Shortly, indeed, a concerted membership drive is to be launched, and since the club membership is limited to 30 by the by-laws, it will be a case of first come first served.

New Members

Any prospective member applying for membership after the 30th member has joined, will be put on a waiting list, until there is an opening. So any of you girls who have been thinking you would like to join but are sort of waiting to be urged a little—this is it. We hope you will get in before the membership is closed.

Happy New Year.

Cats And Monkeys

SAN FRANCISCO ZOO TO GET NEW LOOK

The old section of the San Francisco Zoological Gardens, better known as Fleishhacker Zoo, will be demolished early next year to make room for a "primate and panther house" to contain 34 cages for monkeys and 18 for the big cats.

Announcement of the construction was made here this week by Director Carey Baldwin, who reported preliminary plans were approved last Spring by the Recreation-Park Commission. Final drawings are now being finished and construction is expected to begin next month and take until next Summer for completion.

The new cages will be spread out and separated by trees and landscaping following the tradition of famed European zoological gardens, Baldwin said.

New consruction at the zoo will combine the best features of other zoological gardens and make San Francisco's among the most up-to-date in the country, according to Baldwin. It will be the first major construction at the zoo since the 1930's when the WPA constructed a giant aviary, monkey island, elephant stalls and bear grottoes.

"RECORD" REMINISCENCE

New Items Appearing In The Daly City Record 10 Years Ago

Daly City-South San Francisco selective service board has completed classification of 331 men, nearly one-half of the 765 questionnaires sent out to date. Only about 10 per cent of the draftees have qualified for 1-A.

* * *

Daly City exceeded its Red Cross drive fund by an easy margin, Eva Page, local chairman, said today. Although Mrs. Page is recuperating from pneumonia at her home, 532 San Diego avenue, she reported that to date funds collected total $441, approximately $50 over the quota.

* * *

Ronald Davis was guest of honor at a party in honor of his second birthday, last Wednesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis, 1135 Brunswick.

* * *

Christmas will have a special meaning this year for Councilman Julius Twesten and his family who will move into a new home shortly after the holidays. Modern and convenient in every respect, the new house is located at 309 Knowles.

* * *

The "Honest Abes" of Lincoln High made way with a two way win last Tuesday as they met the Jeff men in a tough struggle. As the whistle blew to end the game, the referee found the score standing at 34-34. In the overtime the Lincoln men came in with a 3 to 2 win, making the final score 36-37.

* * *

New Year's day will be a big day for the Daly City Band. It will be the band's annual appearance at the East-West game at Kezar stadium.

* * *

Mrs. Olive Hoover, 1040 Brunswick street, was recently elected Wenonah of Matoaka Council No. 18, D. P. A member of the council for only one year, Mrs. Hoover is now starting through the various chairs.

James Schultz of the Daly City Cleaners and Dyers announced this week the installation of a complete new cleaning plant.

Sailor Returns

DC Navy Man Back From Korean War

Walter D. Phillips, Engineman third class, USN, husband of Mrs. Erma L. Phillips, 173 Santa Barbara St., has arrived back in the United States for Christmas and New Years holidays.

He was aboard the USS Wantuck (APD 125) which arrived at Navy Pier in San Diego seven months after she originally headed for the Far East.

Read Admiral I. N. Kiland, Commander of the Amphibious Force of the Pacific Fleet, was at the pier to welcome the ship personally, and add his congratulations to the "Well Done" already extended this fighting ship by Vice Admiral C. T. Joy, Commander of the Naval Forces in the Far East and Admiral A. W. Radford, Commander in Chief of the Pacific Fleet.

The record of the Wantuck, an amphibious high speed transport, reads like a Naval history of the Korean war to date. From Pusan to Inchon she carried Marine elements which participated in the amphibious operation that netralized the fortress island of Wolmi Do, making the Inchon landing possible. After completing her duties at Inchon, the Wantuck moved up to Wonsan on the east coast of Korea. She took part in the landing following the pre-invasion operations.

LIVERMORE NAMED

Livermore, located in Alameda County, is reported by the National Automobile Club to have been named after Robert Livermore, a pioneer who arrived in the year 1816.

Profanity, Thy Name Is Burglar

Foiled by detection, a burglar took out his wrath with cuss words at the home of Mrs. A. D. Sealey, 209 Los Banos, last Thursday night.

Mrs. Sealey was awakened Thursday night by a window being opened.

As she looked out the window she saw the burglar trying to break into the house. The burglar saw her.

Beating a hasty exit, the thief took the time to curse his intended victim. The burglar then piled into an old car and drove down the block.

XMAS STORY

Thief Helps Self To Christmas Cheer

A thief, who lacked sentiment and a full stomach, raised havoc with the usual Christmas spirits of good will and giving late Christmas eve.

Taking unto himself some Christmas cheer, the burglar broke into the Hillside Fish Grotto, 6644 Mission, and carried off an 11½ pound turkey, seven dozen eggs and a fifth of whiskey.

He left nothing but a partially empty store.

HOWDY, PARTNER!

All Kids Envy Councilman Bertetta

"Hand me down my six shooters, and call me partner," City Councilman Fred Bertetta drawled today.

The occasion for that statement can well be the envy of every kid in town.

While not a cowboy by inclination or profession, Bertetta has an eye for the greats of television and films. Consequently when he was back east recently he was the first to recognize one of the truly great cowmen of our day.

Sadling up to the sage brush star, Bertetta presented himself and carried on a brief conversation concerning things western and eternal. The star noted Bertetta's name, and returned to his beef steak.

Bertetta forgot the incident until the day before Christmas. What was in the mail, but a Christmas card from the famed cowboy.

The card was simply signed "Hopy." Kids who would like to see Hopalong Cassidy's Christmas card should corral Bertetta.

Brunswick Street

City To Extend Road Thru Quarry

Plans for extension of Brunswick street through the H. H. Smith "quarry" were revealed by the city today even while Smith was awaita court's decision on his appeal for a larger sum for his property.

The city has forwarded plans to the state for a 500 foot extension of Brunswick to Hillside boulevard. This would cut directly through Smith's quarry property, on which he at one time planned the world's largest motel.

Mayor Paul Green indicated that as soon as the plans have been approved by the state bids would be called on the work. He said Smith's appeal for a new case would have no effect on the city's extension of the street, other than possibly raising the sum the city will pay Smith for the land.

Judge L. R. Avilla last month ruled the city must pay Smith $4,465 for the 500 fot long, 70 foot wide strip. Smith immediately called for a new trial, and when this was denied appeald from the District Court of Appeals. The Court has still to hand down a decision.

Employment Up

State Records Work Upswing

Approximately a quarter of a million more persons were employed in California during November of this year than were at work during the corresponding month of 1949, it was announced today following a conference between Paul Scharrenberg, Director of the State Department of Industrial Relations, and James G. Bryant, Director of the State Department of Employment.

A further comparison which reflected California's steady economic growth showed that November, 1950, employment was about 575,000 above the number at work during November of 1943 and 1944, two years of intense war production activity in California.

Employment during the month just ended was estimated at 4,409,000, down seasonally from the all-time California peak of 4,496,000 for October of this year, but still an all-time record for the month of November.

Unemployment in November showed a seasonal increase from the post-war low established in October. It was estimated that 178,000 persons were unemployed and seeking work in California in mid-November compared to 143,000 in October and 361,000 in November of 1949.

Offsetting in part seasonal decreases in such industries as agriculture, fruit and vegetable canning, lumbering and construction were increases in primary metal industries, aircraft, machinery and electrical equipment manufacturing, trade and federal civilian employment.

Various G.I. Benefits Noted

QUESTION: I received my monthly subsistence allowance for GI Bill training, but the amount seems much larger than I usually get. What should I do with the check?

ANSWER: Don't cash it. Return it to the VA Regional Office which has your records, so that officials there can review your case to determine just how much subsistence you are entitled to.

QUESTION: I plan to get a GI business loan to buy a truck and go into the trucking business. Do the new down payment requirements of the Federal Reserve Board's Regulation W apply to the loan?

ANSWER: No. VA guaranteed business loans are exempt from the down payment regulations.

QUESTION: I have just been discharged for a service-conected disability incurred in Korean fighting. Am I entitled to VA hostpital care, even though I am not a World War II veteran?

ANSWER: Yes. You may relaw.

QUESTION: Would a veteran who lost a leg as a result of action in Korea be entitled to an automobile at Government expense?

ANSWER: No. Loss of the leg must have resulted from World War II service, under the present ceive medical care for your service-connected disability, so long as you were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

San Francisco Steps Up War Defense Work

All agencies involved in the defense of this Bay area metropolis swung into line this week to protect San Franciscans from possible enemy attack, their ears ringing with a warning from Maj. Gen. W. M. Robertson, State civil defense director, that "every family in the Bay area should construct a backyard bomb shelter."

To head the home protection service of the Disaster Corps, Mayor Robinson named former police chief Michael Riordan. He will be charged with organizing neighborhood groups in a block warden system.

Charles E. Pearce, local newspaperman, was named public information officer for the Council, under supervisor of Director A. G. Cook.

The city's first air raid warning test was set for Friday (Dec. 29) at 11 a.m. when sirens on the Ferry Building and all fire engines in the city will be sounded. The tests are to continue each Friday morning at 11 until the city's World War II alarms can be put in working order.

Funds and means of bombproofing Union Square Garage in the heart of the city were being sought by the Parking Authority. Federal funds have also been asked for St. Mary's Square garage when it gets under construction, as well as the proposed Civic Center underground garage. A New York City garage engineering expert has been engaged by the Authority to draft a basic design for bombproofing them.

Meanwhile the extent of antisabotage measures in effect in the city's industrial plants was being surveyed by the Distaster Corps' plant protection division.

State Gas Revenues Up

A record for the month of October was established this year with the distribution of 313,110.901 gallons of gasoline, butane, and other high-test motor fuel by refiners and other licensees, according to George R. Reilly, Chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

This amount was almost 27 million gallons, or 9.4 per cent, greater than the October 1949 volume. Of the 19,037,750 gallons of butane and other liquefied petroleum gases included in the total, nearly four-fifths were sold for domestic heating and other non-highway purposes and consequently were not subject to the motor vehicle fuel tax.

Gross revenues derived from October taxable distributions of high-test motor fuels amounted to $13,412,310. Refunds by Controller Thomas H. Kuchel during the month to purchasers of gasoline for non-road use were $1,077,012, or 8 per cent of the gross tax liability, leaving net revenues of $12,335,297. These net revenues were 11.8 per cent higher than those of October 1949 and almost $200,000 above September 1950 collections.

These State Roads Open For Travel

The All-Year Highway, 140, between Merced and Yosemite Valley is again open for public travel, according to park and State highway officials who are rushing repairs to this road following the damaging floods in November.

The highway is not in good condition but it is safe and passable with careful driving.

State Route 41 north from Fresno and Madera to Yosemite Valley is open and in good condition. The Big Oak Flat Road, 120, from Manteca, and the Tioga Road connecting U. S. 395 at Mono Lake are closed for the season.

Travel

Travel from the San Francisco Bay region can use Highways 50 to Tracy, thence 33 and 132 to Modesto, then on Highway 99 to Merced. Peninsula travel may reach Merced via Highways 101 and 152—the Paceco Pass route.

Motorists from Southern California can use Highway 99 to Fresno, thence north on Route 41 to to Yosemite Valley via South Entrance.

Roads within the Park are open to Badger Pass and to the Mariposa Grove of Giant Sequoias.

Accommodations

Accommodations are available at the Ahwahnee Hotel and Yosemite Lodge. Campers using their own equipment will find camp space available in Camp 4 located just west of Yosemite Lodge. This campground remains open until heavy snows in Yosemite Valley sometimes makes camping impracticable.

The Badger Pass Ski House opened for the winter season on December 15. This consists of a lounge, cafeteria, ski rental and waxing rooms, and serves as headquarters for the Yosemite Ski School. There are no overnight accommodations at Badger Pass. At the time of this writing there is no snow on the ground, but it is expected at any time now.

SP Sets Operating Record In Traffic

Southern Pacific rolled up more ton-miles of revenue freight movement in 1950 than in any other twelve-month period with the exception of 1948 and the peak years of World War II, and set an all-tim operating efficiency record.

This was revealed today by President A. T. Mercier in a year-end review of the railroad's achievements.

A heavier volume of traffic, starting in March, was caused by a greater demand for goods and materials throughout the nation, Mr. Mercier pointed out. "The Korean crisis," he continued, "continued, "started a buying rush in June whilh resulted in a sudden demand for transportation services. Never in Southern Pacific's history had business activity attained such high levels in the territory served by the company's lines."

More streamlined passenger train cars were placed in service by Southern Pacific in 1950 than in any other year, the rail president said. New streamliners inaugurated were the five complete trains necessary to maintain daily Sunset Limited service between Los Angeles and New Orleans, and the twin Cascade night trains between San Francisco and Portland. Southern Pacific, it was emphasized, now provides the most modern streamlined sleeping car and streamlined coach service on each of its four transcontinental routes.

YOUR NEW SOCIAL SECURITY

By E. J. FOLEY

The child in the average American home will have greater insurance benefit payments under the Amended Social Security law.

While a child's benefit in life cases is still one-half of the insured worker's insurance amount, provisions relating to the definition of child, dependency of child, and the child's benefit amount are liberalized.

Beginning this September, on deaths of the insured worker occurring at any time after 1939, an only child's benefit payment is three-fourths of the deceased worker's insurance payment. In case there is more than one child in the family, each child's benefit is one half of the worker's insurance payment, plus one-fourth of that benefit-divided by the number of children.

New Law

Under the new law, the adopted child of a deceased insured worker need no longer meet any time requirement to qualify as a "child" for social security benefits. In life cases, a stepchild who is later adopted by his stepparent, may count time before and after adoption toward the required time period. That time period is now three years before the day of application.

The amended law makes many changes in the provisions concerning a child's dependency on his mother and on a stepparent. A child will be considered dependent on his natural or adopting mother, regardless of the father's presence in the home, or the father's contributions to the child's support. This applies in cases where the mother was currently insured when she died or became entitled to retirement insurance benefits. A child can be deemed dependent on his mother (including a stepmother) if the mother was furnishing at least half of the child's support at the time of her death or retirement.

Dependent

A child is considered dependent on a stepfather with whom he was living, or who was furnishing at least half the child's support, even though the child's real father was also contributing toward the child's support. The benefit amount for one or more surviving children is increased by one-fourth of the worker's insurance amount divided equally among the children.

Lady Wrasslers

By RIDGELY CUMMINGS

American womanhood in all its dignity and glory takes quite a beating in 42 of our United States where feminine wrestling is allowed. California along with Kansas, Michigan, New York, Connecticutt and Illinois bars the "sport," is permitted in Arizona and that's where I watched four young ladies kick, punch, pull hair and commit mayhem on each other recently.

My attendance was in line of duty as drama critic for a small Phoenix paper. From the way the girls received me in the drawing room after their bouts I felt I ought to be representing at least the New York Times. They couldn't have been any nicer if I were from the Saturday Evening Post or Time Magazine.

"Do a human interest story," my editor had said. "Treat it like you would any other dramatic performance and then go backstage if they'll let you and interview the actresses."

Feminine Notes

That's what I did. I've already written a review of the performance for this other publication, but perhaps some notes on what the girls said backstage might be of interest here.

The matches were held in a building in Phoenix called Madison Square Garden. It is owned by a stock company with Jim Londos, a wrestling great of a few decades ago, as the principal stockholder. Jim was on hand the night I was there and it was he who arranged for me to interview the female athletes.

The first bout had been between Lucy Lopez of Nogales and Barbara Raymond of Tucson. Miss Raymond, a 19-year old graduate of Tucson high school, wore a black bathing suit and did very mean things to Miss Lopez, an 18-year old who wore a fetching white costume and looked too sweet to be in the same ring with the Tucson terror. It had been declared a draw, which displeased Miss Raymond so much that she swung a haymaker on the referee and then made a surprise attack on Miss Lopez. Miss Lopez retaliated by throwing her out of the ring and kicking her in the face when she tried to return.

Explain Action

Later I asked the girls about this portion of their match and they explained that all friendship ceases once they enter the ring.

The other match had been between Lilly Bitter of Newark, N. J., and Anne Stanley of Loveland, Ohio. Miss Bitter won two falls out of three and Miss Stanley proceeded to pull the white "T" shirt off the referee. She was, it developed, disappointed with the verdict.

When I was escorted back stage Miss Raymond and Miss Lopez had both finished their showers and were dressed in modest street costumes while Miss Bitter and Miss Stanley were still in battle togs, eating hot dogs and drinking cokes.

In the ring they had been holy terrors, but now they seemed completely feminine and rather sweet and appealing, though I would hate to be the man who blithely made an unwelcome pass at one of them. She probably could tie him in knots within a minute.

The girls went out of their way to make me feel at home. Miss Stanley brought me a coke and Miss Bitter insisted I use her purse as an impromptu desk on which to make notes. To do justice to their personality and the simple, direct approach to life that is implicit in their philosophical outlook would take more space than is available here, so let me just say a few words about the background and ambition of each.

Brains

Miss Raymond, the villianness in black tights, wore horn rimmed glasses off stage and seemed to have intellectual tendencies. She hopes eventually to attend the University of Arizona as a physical education major and become a gymnastics teacher.

Miss Lopez, though only 18, has been wrestling for three years in Tucson, Miami, Prescott, Superior and other Arizona towns. She wants to "keep on in the business" for several years before she retires to marry and raise a family.

Miss Bitter, who calls herself a Russian Yankee from New Jersey, is made of sterner stuff. She hopes some day to take the title away from Mildred Burke, present woman's world champion. She is considered a leading contender now although she has been wrestling only a year and a half. During that time, she told me, she has suffered a broken nose, three broken ribs, an injured knee cartiledge and innumerable black eyes and rope burns.

But Cute

Miss Bitter, whose nose didn't look at all broken but rather pert and cute, has a good chance to realize her ambition. Although she stands only five foot six and weighs 135 pounds, she appears to be all muscle and proved herself smart and aggressive in her Phoenix performance.

By contrast, Miss Stanley's ambition is financial. She came into wrestling from a circus background, having done high wire work and handled elephants. She wants some day to manage her own elephant show.

I was curious about the financial rewards of wrestling for the girls but couldn't bring myself to ask them a question which might destroy the perfect harmony of our relationship. The closest I came was to inquire what future they thought the sport offered a young girl athlete. Miss Bitter spoke for all four when she said:

"I love it. Wrestling is thrilling but it is very rough. You tell any girl who is delicate or who is afraid of getting hurt to stay out of it. Also, you never get an opportunity to cook, what with traveling thousands of miles a year, and I love to cook."

TWO-WAY TESTS FOR TIRES

Many motorists are satisfied merely to check the air pressure after inflating the tires, points out the National Automobile Club. Checking before as well, and keeping a record of the pressure loss, gives one an accurate knowledge of how often the tires should be inflated and also may serve to disclose slow leaks. It still is an axiom of motoring that the more attention one pays to tires, the less money he pays out for them.

Vets Info

Hospital Records Should Be Filed

Because a veteran's legal as well as medical eligibility must be established if he is admitted to a Veterans Administration hospital, it is sound practice to have the basic facts about himself and his military service on file at the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City, according to Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer.

"It will always speed up the routine of hospital admission," he said, "if we san supply without delay the veteran's full name, address, claim number (if any), branch and dates of service, and type of discharge certificate. The VA is required to have this information before it can admit a patient, and in serious cases the patient or his physician may not be able to provide it."

The possibility of emergency hospitalization is only one of the reasons why veterans in increasing numbers are taking the few minutes' time required to register at the Veterans Service Office.

In some cases, Granger reported, the mere fact of registering has brought to his attention the possible existence of some benefit to which the veteran was entitled. In others, the information has been extremely valuable when the veteran died, in saving costly and even tragic delays at the expense of his surviving dependents.

Veterans who have not yet done so may register at the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City, during usual business hours. They are advised to bring along their original discharge certificate, if possible, so that it can be recorded at the same time.

Bank Promises Higher Interest

Intention on the part of directors and management of Bank of America to pay a substantially increased rate of savings interest next year was announced today by L. M. Giannini, president.

Under the new schedule it is contemplated that a rate of two per cent per annum, compounded semiannually, will be earned by savings deposits in all individual pass book accounts in the Bank of America starting January 1, 1951, compared with the rate of 1½ per cent which applied during the past years.

President Giannini stated that this course was not only a reward for thrift but also in line with the bank's established policy to pass along to depositors, stockholders and employes the benefits of continuing satisfactory operations.

During 1950, he said, employes received a general increase in salaries plus an additional approximately one and a half months salary to participating employes by way of profit sharing bonus, and dividends to stockholders increased 20 per cent. In addition to being the world's greatest non-government bank, he pointed out, the Bank of America is the largest savings bank, and as such, so long as it is possible to do so, it seems appropriate to pay a rate as high as that paid by many of the large savings banks of the United States.

Pedestrian Must Save His Own Life

The California Highway Patrol today urge dpedestrians to depend upon themselves for their own safety.

Pointing out that this season of the year usually records the highest number of pedestrian accidents, the Highway Patrol reminded pedestrians:

"Don't depend upon the driver to look out for you—he may not see you or he may be preoccupied.

"Don't step off the curb without looking all ways. Cross streets at cross walks only—and then only when you know it is safe to do so."

At the same time, the Patrol called upon motorists to be particularly watchful for pedestrians.

"Give them the right-of-way, even when they are clearly in the wrong," the Patrol pleaded.

MATCH YOUR HOSPITALITY

By TONI WOODWARD—ANS

A good hostess can match her hospitality with anyone if she remembers the thoughtful things that cost so little. And today, matches are still a bargain both in price and in courtesy.

Since records show that eight out of ten men smoke, and at least six out of ten women smoke occasionally, the thoughtful hostess has plenty of ashtrays, and enough matches so that a lone book doesn't have to be passed from hand to hand.

At luncheon, canasta, and dinner parties, the good hostess sets her table with an individual ashtray and match book for each guest. The table setting above, for example, shows how attractive initialed book matches also enhance table decoration.

Tempting Sponge Cups Are Made With Quick-Frozen Orange Juice

WITH the greatest of ease you can reconstitute quick-frozen orange juice concentrate for your daily breakfast. Just empty the contents of a can of the concentrate into a pitcher or shaker and add three cans of cold water. Shake or stir vigorously to restore the air, and it's ready to serve—refreshingly cool, and delicious with sun-ripened flavor.

This quick-frozen orange juice concentrate, tucked compactly into the freezing compartment of the refrigerator, is ready to serve as the foundation for delicious desserts, too. It's the wonderful orange flavor that makes these desserts so specially good; and the convenience of having fresh orange juice at hand without a single skin or seed, strainer or squeezer, is a wonderful time saver for the chief cook.

You can always increase the flavor value of a fruit cup by adding frozen orange juice. A cup and a half of the reconstituted juice added to enough fruit for six is about the right proportion. Grapes and bananas with orange juice make a tempting midwinter combination; a diced winter pear is an appetizing addition. For a very special fruit cup, melon balls in orange juice are a happy choice.

An easily-made dessert, Orange Sponge Cups, will cover your efforts with glory. They're light, flavorsome little mounds, a combination custard-sponge that everybody's sure to like. Here's the recipe:

Orange Sponge Cups

2 tablespoons butter
2/3 cup sugar
2 egg yolks, unbeaten
1/4 cup concentrated quick-frozen orange juice
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
2 egg whites

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream thoroughly. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add concentrated orange juice, then flour. Add milk gradually, blending well. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, and fold into orange mixture. Turn into greased custard cups. Place custard cups in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 35 minutes. When done, top will be sponge and bottom will be custard. Chill. Unmold, if desired. Serve plain or with whipped cream. Makes 5 servings.

Freedom Crusade

California Shows Outstanding Work

Nationwide results of the recent popular Crusade for Freedom just released from New York by national chairman General Lucius D. Clay, were gratefully noted by the leaders of the Crusade in California, headed by L. M. Giannini, Pacific Coast chairman.

Pacific Coast states, with 9.6 per cent of the country's population, had 10.2 per cent of all signatures and 15.7 per cent of the contributions. California, it was disclosed, was exceeded only New York in the amount of contribution, and only by Pennsylvania in the total of signatures.

Of the total number of 15,507,877 signatures for the nation, California provided 1,258,367. Of the national cash contribution of $1,288,044.59, the people of California furnished $163,481.03.

In other respects also, California provided an outstanding performance. With seven per cent of the country's population, California contributed eight per cent of the signatures and 13.5 per cent of the money.

Wheelock Bingham of San Francisco was Crusade chairman for Northern California, and Garrett McEnerney was the chairman for San Francisco. General Ira C. Eaker was the Southern California chairman.

It was emphasized that all the campaign expenses were met from a special fund previously contributed by public spirited citizens to the National Committee for a Free Europe, and that therefore the entire amount voluntarily donated by the people during the Crusade is being used to broadcast the truth about the free world to the confined peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

A report is expected in the near future from the committee now at work developing a continuing program for 1951.

Answers to TEST YOUR I. Q.

1. Motor vehicle accidents caused the largest percentage of accidental deaths, according to a recent estimate.
2. About 20, although this number rises to over 200 as the Christmas holidays approach. This number has set a record in White House annals.
3. The first singing competition was held in 1790 at Dorchester, Mass. A group singing Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" without books won.
4. Moses Cleaveland, who founded the city bearing his name in 1798.
5. The rose.

No Car . . . Destroy Registration Card

Motorists should destroy 1951 potential registration cards received for vehicles which they no longer own, Motor Vehicle Director A. H. Henderson said today.

Henderson explained that because of late ownership transfers a potential registration card sometimes is received by the former owner as well as the new owner of the vehicle.

Failure of the former owner to notify the Department of Motor Vehicles of the transfer or sale within 10 days as provided by law also may result in a mis-directed potential registration card.

Transfer applications received in Motor Vehicle Department offices subsequent to December 15 will not result in issuance of a potential registration card. In such cases, the new owner should apply during the January 2 through February 5 renewal period using the 1950 registration card. Penalties become effective at midnight on the closing date of the renewal period.

Henderson said that minor changes involving addresses and correction of name spellings could be effected at the time of renewal. He emphasized that the applicant should read his potential registration card carefully before paying fees to insure that his vehicle is correctly described.

The license number printed on the face of the potential registration card will not be carried over to 1951. The new number will be stamped in the upper right hand corner of the card at the time of validation.

About a third of the persons killed in traffic accidents in California are pedestrians, according to the California Highway Patrol. Motorists should be particularly watchful for the elderly pedestrian as well as children. The older person often can't move fast enough and the children are impulsive. Be alert for the unexpected actions of both.

Early names for Marysville were Yubaville and New Mecklenberg.

Bubble Bath Santa

Santa Claus tonight, Captain Kidd tomorrow! This 5-year old adventurer does it all with a handful of suds!

Popular indoor sport for the Younger Set is the nightly bubble bath, and if the budget doesn't stretch to prettily packaged versions, a good homemade bubble bath can be whipped up by sprinkling a quarter to a half-cup of an all-purpose special detergent, such as Tide, directly into the tub and then sudsing into deep froth with a strong water spray. For special occasions, sprinkle the granules with a tablespoon of cologne or toilet water, a few drops of pine oil or essence of peppermint, or even in the emergency, a tablespoonful of vanilla. Let rest a few minutes then use as any other bubble bath preparation.
